Agrees to Troop Cut Talks With Polish Leaders

'Tired' Nixon Heads Home

WARSAW (UPI) — A "dead-tired" President Nixon reached some wide-ranging accords with Polish leaders today as the final stroke of his 12-day diplomatic mission, and headed home for a report to Congress tonight on the Moscow summit.

The presidential jet, The Spirit of '76, left Warsaw on a nine-hour flight to Washington after Nixon and First Secretary Edward Gierk of the Polish Communist party signed a communiqué summing up four hours of talks. In the document, the two leaders agreed that talks should be opened as soon as possible on East-West troop reductions in Europe; to lay groundwork for a European security conference—also agreed to by Nixon at the Kremlin summit—and agreed to conduct continuing talks on improving U.S.-Polish trade (non-specific, as was the case in Moscow).

But just as he failed to break any any ground with Soviet leaders on the Vietnam issue, Nixon was unable to reach accord with the Polish. The Warsaw communiqué said: "Both sides presented their known positions on the war in Vietnam and the situation in Indochina. Essential views of the two sides in this question remained divergent."

As Nixon wound up his journey, which included stops in Leningrad, Kiev and Tehran, the President showed clear signs of the stress he has been under since his arrival in Moscow May 22. "He's dead-tired but he won't admit it," one aide said. His wife, Pat, also lost the poise she had maintained throughout the journey, snapping at Polish plainclothesmen trying to keep her away from a friendly crowd: "Can't we tell the secret police to stand aside? Goodness, I've never seen such people . . . I want to say hello to the people."

But weary as he was, the President intended to spend most of the time on the homeward flight, according to aides, in putting finishing touches on his 9:30 p.m. EDT address to a joint session of Congress, to be broadcast nationally.

The speech was expected to put heavy emphasis on his nuclear arms limitation agreement with Soviet leaders.

Aides said Nixon was thinking of the example of President Woodrow Wilson, who negotiated the treaty of Versailles after World War I and returned home in triumph only to have the pact rejected by Congress. Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon's speech tonight about half an hour after his plane lands would contain no new disclosures, but would explain the agreements reached at the Moscow summit and seek American public support in carrying them forward.

Ziegler was asked why the President decided on the report to Congress immediately after his arrival home, rather than resting and then giving a radio-television address to the nation as was the case after his China trip in February.

The press secretary said Nixon felt it was important to explain to Congress the approval and support needed to implement what the President has called a new era of negotiations and easing of East-West tensions.

S. Viet Paratroopers Launch Big Sweep

SAIGON (AP) — More than 1,000 South Vietnamese paratroopers launched a sweep with tanks 25 miles northwest of Hue today, trying to trap a North Vietnamese regiment.

Enemy artillery caused light casualties, and by late afternoon two government task forces were battling North Vietnamese units of 100 or more men each.

In the air war, U.S. Air Force Phantoms shot down two North Vietnamese MIG21s within 30 miles of the Chinese border Wednesday. No U.S. planes were reported lost in the dogfight, the closest to the border since the 1965-68 bombing campaign. But the U.S. Command said a Phantom returning from a strike in North Vietnam today crashed just before reaching its Thai base, and the two crewmen were rescued unhurt.

The U.S. Command said the two MIG21 interceptors were shot down within 15 minutes of each other at points 50 to 70 miles northeast of Hanoi by missiles from two F4 Phantoms based in Thailand. The MIGs apparently had been sent up from the Kep air base, 35 miles northeast of Hanoi, to challenge the bombers which the Phantoms were escorting.

Ten Americans were killed in action last week, 11 were missing and 35 were wounded, the U. S. Command announced today. This raised to 416 the number of American combat casualties reported in the two months between the start of the North Vietnamese offensive March 30 and last Saturday.

The command's weekly casualty summary also, reported that one American died from nonhostile causes last week.

The American combat casualties were higher in all categories last week than the week before. That week the figures were 8 killed in action, 7 missing, 22 wounded and 9 dead of nonhostile causes.

The South Vietnamese command reported 754 of its troops killed last week, a drop of three. But the wounded increased by 430 to 2,781, and 312 troops were missing in action, 98 more than the week before.

The South Vietnamese also claimed a big jump in enemy dead, from 3,994 the week before to 5,218 last week. Total casualties for the war, according to the allied commands are:

American—45,765 killed in action, 303,046 wounded, 1,601 missing or captured, 10,180 dead from nonhostile causes.

South Vietnamese—144,238 killed, 368,499 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—840,909 killed.

The U.S. Command also announced the biggest single troop withdrawal since the North Vietnamese offensive began, but the entire reduction of 2,460 men involved support units. The command said it was phasing out 37 Army units.

North Vietnam also was hit from the sea. The heavy cruiser Newport News and the destroyer Waddell ranged for 100 miles along the coast, firing at more than 30 targets. The Navy said one fuel depot was left in flames and more than 20 secondary explosions were observed at an ammunition dump.

Accompanying the ground sweep, Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported that more than 1,000 paratroopers with scores of tanks and armored personnel carriers advanced through a North Vietnamese artillery barrage in the foothills northwest of Hue.

Report POWs Ask War End

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fifteen American prisoners of war in South Vietnam purportedly have signed a statement asking Congress to stop the "immoral, tragic war."

The appeal and the names of the alleged signees were broadcast over "Liberation Radio," operated by the Viet Cong. Three of the men were previously listed as officially missing in action.

The English-language broadcast was monitored by the U.S. government Tuesday. UPI obtained a transcript copy from government sources and the Defense Department has confirmed its authenticity. But a spokesman said department policy prohibited confirming the names of prisoners listed. The Pentagon Wednesday started to notify the relatives of the men named in the broadcast.

"Rational beings rectify mistakes when recognized," the statement said. "The time is critical. Please take effective legislative action. We must choose between an immoral, tragic war with catastrophic consequences and the honorable future of the United States."

UPI learned of the broadcast from Valerie Kushner of Danville, Va., whose husband, Capt. F. Harold Kushner, has been a Viet Cong prisoner 4½ years. Mrs. Kushner is a critic of the war.

The three men previously listed as missing and identified as Viet Cong captives in the broadcast were:

—John Robert Cavaiani of the U.S. Army Special Forces, captured June 4, 1971.

—Army Pvt. Don A. MacPhail, captured Feb. 5, 1969.

—Army Pvt. John G. Sparks, captured April 25, 1968.

Others identified as POWs besides Kushner, were:

—Army 1st Lt. Richard C. Anshus, captured March 8, 1971.

—Army WO Frank D. Anton, Jan. 6, 1968.

—Army WO David W. Sooter, Feb. 17, 1967.

—Marine Cpl. Alfonso Ray Riati, April 25, 1967.

—Army Spec. 4 John A. Young, Jan. 30, 1968.

—Army Spec. 4 Robert P. Chenoweth, Feb. 8, 1968.

—Army Pfc. King David Rayford, July 1, 1967.

—Army Pfc. James A. Daily, Jan. 9, 1968.

—Marine Pfc. Able L. Kavanaugh, April 26, 1968.

—Marine Sgt. Jose Jesus Anxalca Jr., Jan. 17, 1970.

The broadcast also listed Marine Lance Cpl. Frederick Edward Jr., captured Aug. 15, 1968. However, the Pentagon said the name does not appear on its rolls.

There are some 400 confirmed POWs being held in Indochina including 96 in South Vietnam, according to the latest Pentagon figures. Another 1,200 are listed as missing in action which including 506 in North Vietnam.

50-Cent Lottery Winner 153445

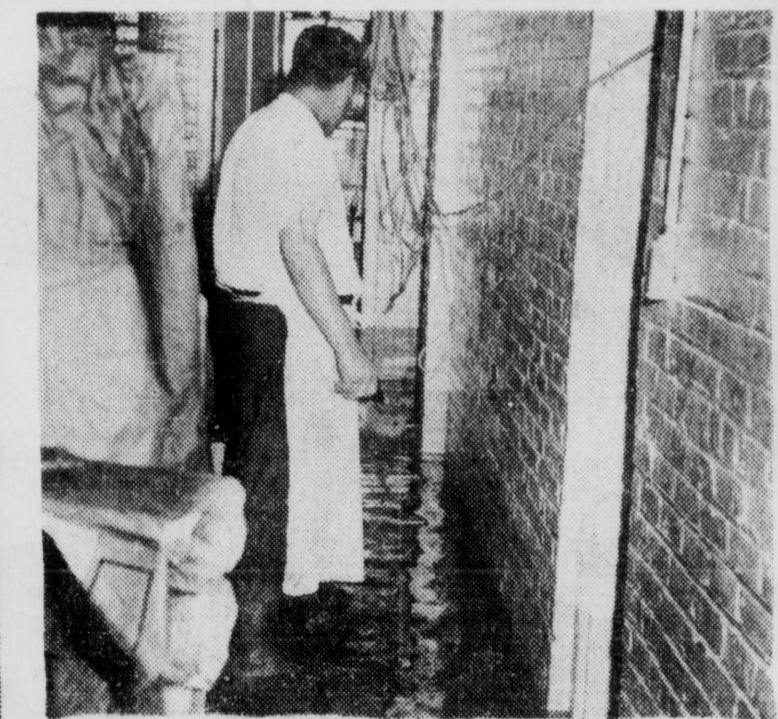

If your lottery ticket number corresponds with the one listed above, you can win one of the following cash prizes. The top prize of $50,000 will be awarded to the holder of the six-digit number on the ticket. All other prizes will be based on the digits on the same ticket. There will be nine second prizes of $5,000 each based on the last five digits; 90 third prizes of $500 each based on the last four digits and 900 fourth place prizes of $50 each based on the last three digits.

There are 10,000 prizes offered weekly for each series of one million, 50-cent tickets sold. Drawings are held each Thursday.

Flooding, Fallen Trees, Power Outages From Storm

KINGSTON Wednesday's 2.72 inches of rainfall thoroughly soaked the city and Ulster County, causing wide flooding, toppling numerous trees and generally making the last day in May something to remember.

Central Hudson reports that there were three "minor power outages" caused by the storm, in Ulster Park, the Glenerie Lake section and off East Chester Street in Kingston, the latter due mainly to a car hitting a power pole.

There was heavy flooding throughout the city, particularly in the Roosevelt Park area and on the Strand in Broadway East. The Kingston Urban Renewal Agency had installed a new catch basin in Ferry Street leading into the Strand after the spring storms but it proved inadequate to yesterday's deluge.

Water on the street was more than a foot deep for a distance of about 150 yards. The county courthouse-jail complex on Wall Street took a beating from the rains.

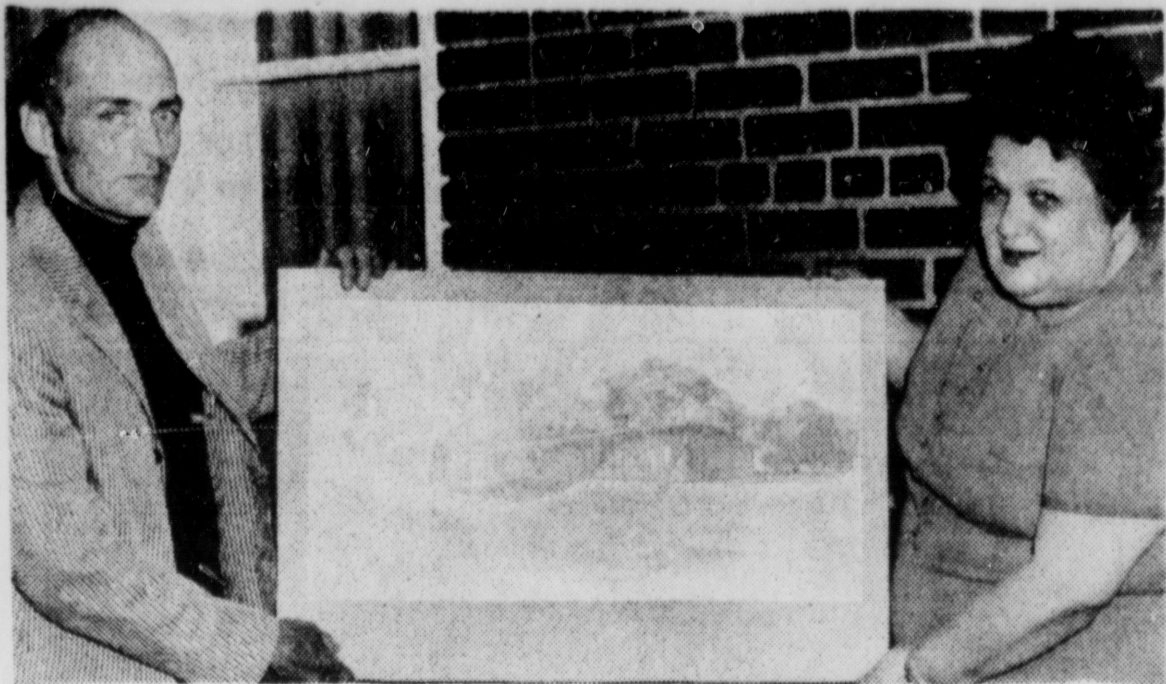

Six inches of water were in the basement of the jail while numerous leaks were noted on the ground floor of the courthouse.

Trees were down in many parts of the county. Main Street in Hurley was blocked for several hours by a fallen tree.

Thunder and lightning accompanied the storm with lightning hitting the home of James DeCicco at 26 Larch Street, Kingston. City firemen confined damage to a service line and outlet where the lightning struck.

And, a rally called by Kingston Area Students for Peace fizzled in the heavy rain. According to city police, only about ten would-be war protesters showed up at Forsyth Park yesterday afternoon.

Report Barge Damaged Boats

KINGSTON A barge reportedly owned by the Hudson Cement Corp., apparently broke loose sometime after 6 p.m. Wednesday and drifted along the Rondout Creek, allegedly causing undetermined damage to boats and floats at the Kingston Power Boat Association, 370 Abel Street, according to the sheriff's office.

High waters caused by the downpour of rain yesterday reportedly caused the barge to snap its moorings. The barge was eventually retrieved.

A spokesman at the KPBA said today that 11 boats owned by club members were heavily damaged as the barge allegedly slammed into them at the moorings. It also was said at the KPBA that 13 floats and a dock reportedly sustained heavy damage.

The river patrol from the sheriff's department is continuing an investigation of the incident.

Wednesday morning firemen were dispatched to the Rondout Creek below the Feeney Boat Yard where fire had erupted in a derelict barge. Firefighters used portable pumps and pump stream to douse the stubborn blaze that burned a 30-foot section of the abandoned rivercraft.

The fire burned for hours under the steel deck making it difficult for firemen to reach with hoses, but the flames eventually were extinguished. During the operations the Coast Guard was summoned from Saugerties and members of that unit assisted at the scene. Officials termed the cause of the blaze incendiary.

It was reported that youths had frequently been seen on the barge while fishing.

Police were asked to investigate the origin of the blaze. Deputy Chief Hugh Greer and Captain Francis T. Argulewicz directed the operations.

Legislation Submitted

KINGSTON A move to persuade Kingston city school officials to allow students to distribute political literature at the schools was made Wednesday night by the Ulster County Youth-in-Government mock legislature.

Legislature Chairman Robert Kirkpatrick, Kingston High School, submitted the resolution stating that "it is the opinion of many students covering the entire political spectrum that this is an unjust denial of a basic right."

He said many appeals have been made by the students, to no avail and that the next step is a challenge in the courts by a group of students from the school.

Kirkpatrick said that the case could set a precedent for similar situations in other areas and is important because of the new 18-year-old voting age.

Copies of the resolution, which called for freedoms of speech and press in the schools, and passed unanimously, are to be sent to Superintendent of Schools Louis A. Salzmann and the State Education Department.

YIG also passed a resolution submitted by Lorraine McGrane and Patricia Lyons seeking to have county schools create depots for the collection of recyclable paper.

Guard Unit Breaks Camp

CAMP DRUM New York Army National Guardsmen from Kingston, Poughkeepsie, and Newburgh return to home base Saturday morning marking the completion of two weeks of active training here.

The men, members of 1st FA Battalion 156 Artillery, are scheduled to depart from this military reservation near Watertown at approximately 6 a.m. The motor convoy, is expected to arrive in the Hudson Valley cities sometime after 1 p.m.

Upon arrival at home base, the men will unload equipment and insure its safety in the respective armories. Dismissal will take place following this procedure.

The departure from Camp Drum concludes a successful two-week period of training during which time the Newburgh batteries were administered an Army test on their proficiency in firing the M109 self-propelled howitzer. The Poughkeepsie unit, which passed the test last year, and the Kingston units all concentrated on improving skills in their various assigned jobs.

Following the first week of camp when the men spent the entire time in the field, the units' second week of training called for the movement to and from the field on a day-to-day basis.

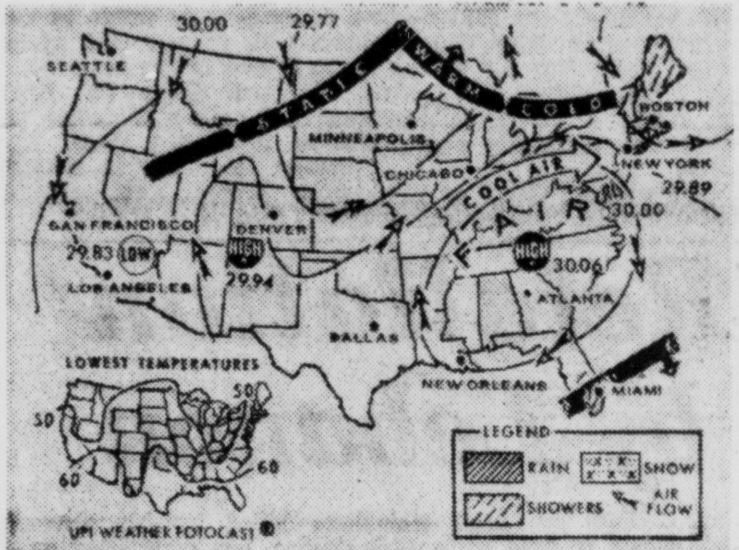

SBA Session Is Planned

KINGSTON David Offenber of the Small Business Administration (SBA) will be in Kingston on Tuesday, June 6, for a counseling session with Ulster County businessmen and women.

Offenber will be in the General Sharpe Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Appointments may be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce of Ulster County between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

The visit will be the sixth by Offenber, and will be the last for the summer. Monthly sessions, all on the first Tuesday of the month, will resume after Labor Day.

Officials of the Chamber of Commerce said that the program, begun on an experimental basis, has proven successful, with full schedules of interviews at each visit. The program will continue to be offered for the foreseeable future, they said.

For Period Ending 7 a. m. EST Friday

Tonight showers will be scattered across parts of the North Atlantic states and lower Florida. Generally fair weather is predicted elsewhere. Minimum temperatures include: (approximate maximum readings in parenthesis) Atlanta 53 (72), Boston 51 (63), Chicago 51 (82), Dallas 66 (89), Denver 55 (89), Duluth 49 (80), Jacksonville 61 (86), Kansas City 61 (86), Los Angeles 61 (75), Miami 71 (85), Minneapolis 56 (89), New Orleans 65 (83), New York 58 (72), Phoenix 70 (102), San Francisco 51 (67), Seattle 46 (64), St. Louis 57 (84) and Washington 52 (75) degrees.

Regular Session Set Tuesday

Council May Approve Plant Legislation

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON The Kingston Common Council will meet in regular session Tuesday night and is expected to approve legislation for additional state funds for the city's $2.8 million waste water treatment plant on the Strand.

Mayor Francis R. Koenig has forwarded suggested legislation to the Council which includes a request for an additional $80,000 in state funds for the sewage treatment plant and program for disbursement of the money.

The Council is also expected to give the Kingston Housing Authority permission to apply to the state for funding of a proposed 100-unit addition to the Wiltyck Gardens Senior Citizen Housing Project off Albany Avenue.

Also on tap is legislation allowing the construction of a Friendly Ice Cream Company store in the Uptown Project and a nursing home, also in the Uptown Project. Zoning changes have been approved by the Laws and Rules Committee of the Common Council.

Majority Leader Peter J.

Mancuso (D-12th Ward) will be the presiding officer at Tuesday night's meeting. Mayor Koenig will be out of town at a mayor's conference at Lake Kiamisha, making Alderman-at-Large T. Robert Gallo acting mayor.

Koenig also notifies the Council of the resignation of Kenneth Hyatt of 28 Janet Street from the Assessment Board of Review. Appointments are made by the Council.

Another message from the mayor notes his veto of traffic legislation approved by the Council last month. Koenig vetoed legislation calling for signal lights at Franklin and Wall Street, at Wilbur Avenue and West O'Reilly Street and for 15-minute parking in front of the Daily Freeman offices on Broadway. The veto will be referred to the Traffic Committee of the Council.

Koenig has appointed Frank Byer of 230 Lucas Avenue to fill the unexpired term of Milford Overfield on the Board of Electrical Examiners. Byer will serve until June 7 and will then be reappointed for a full three-year term.

Also on tap is a letter from the Department of Public Works asking the Council to update regulations on refuse collection.

Another petition has been received from persons opposed to the city's designating city hall an historic site. Those petitioners want the property sold to Kingston Hospital for expansion purposes.

'SMART' BOMB RESULTS — This post-strike photo taken and released by the Pentagon shows the results of an Air Force strike against the northern Lan Cai railroad bridge

'Smart' Bomb Results... Many Accomplishments

SAIGON (AP) — Guided by laser light beams or television cameras, the electronic "smart bombs" U.S. pilots are dropping on North Vietnam have accomplished more in two months against certain targets than the entire 1965-68 bombing did, American officials say.

"We've been able to cut most of the major bridges and roads from the defense lines north of Hue up to the Chinese border," one official claimed. "Both the northeast and northwest rail lines from Hanoi to China have been cut."

Officials report no signs of major movement of war materials from China, either by rail or truck.

The smart bombs had been in the development stage for two years. They were used only on a limited basis in Indochina until President Nixon resumed the full-scale bombing of North Vietnam on April 6 in retaliation for the enemy offensive in South Vietnam.

Generally, two jets operate together in using the laser bombs. One is armed with a laser gun that spotlights the target with the light ray. The beam is narrow, like a rope, and does not widen as a blockbuster used on bridges that range in width from seven feet to more than 50.

Among the major targets reported destroyed by these laser bombs was the Thanh Hoa bridge, 80 miles south of Hanoi, on May 12. The bridge, 56 feet wide and 540 feet long, stood throughout the 1965-68 bombing despite repeated attacks by more than 1,000 U.S. fighter-bombers.

Thirty U.S. planes were lost in the earlier raids on the bridge. None was lost in the attack May 12.

The other smart bomb is the EO, for electrical-optical. It carries a television camera in its nose, and electronic corrections from the flier watching a TV screen in the plane put the bomb on the target.

Conventional bombs are still used in saturation raids against warehouses, truck parks and sprawling storage areas where the objective is "to blow the hell out of the place," one official said.

New Ray of Hope For Leukemia Victims

NEW YORK (AP) — New "shotgun" medical treatments are raising prospects of permanent cure for some children stricken with leukemia, the blood cancer, researchers reported today.

One shotgun approach is the double-barrelled. One barrel is a combination of drugs that combat leukemia. The other barrel is X-rays of the head and spinal column to prevent leukemic invasion of the central nervous system. This invasion is often a fatal complication in leukemia.

Through it, some children have been disease-free long enough to suggest the possibility they are permanently cured of acute lymphocytic leukemia, a major form of the disease, said Dr. Joseph Simone of St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

Another approach using combinations of drugs has brought remissions or freedom from the same kind of leukemia in 70 per cent of children, with 90 per cent of them alive 3½ years after beginning of treatment, said Dr. James F. Holland of Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N.Y.

Both spoke at opening sessions of the National Conference on Cancer Chemotherapy sponsored by the American Cancer Society and National Cancer Institute.

Simone credited a strong dose of X-rays with preventing or delaying the involvement of the central nervous system by leukemic cells, thus prolonging the remissions that can be won through drugs.

The radiation plus two or three years of combination drug treatment has put some young patients into remission with the chance of relapse apparently being small, he said.

One system of treatment made 70 per cent of children free of their leukemia at least temporarily, and a new program combining the principles established in earlier studies "is giving even better results at one year," Holland said.

'Bond Issue Will Pass'... Diamond

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — Environmental Conservation Commissioner Henry L. Diamond said today it would be an uphill fight to get voter approval this fall of the proposed $1.15 billion bond issue.

However, Diamond predicted voters would authorize the measure to combat air and water pollution, despite rejection of the $2.5 billion transit bond issue last fall.

"The voters are very understandably concerned about high taxes, and a billion dollar bond issue is not very popular," Diamond said.

"This is going to be a real test whether our commitment to our environment overcome our reluctance for bond issues. I believe that, on balance, after the voters study it, they will support it and educate them."

The bond issue, cleared for the ballot by Rockefeller's signature Wednesday, would provide funds to build sewage treatment plants, curb air pollution, and preserve valuable forest and coastal lands.

With the stinging defeat of his transit bond issue last fall, Rockefeller has indicated he will let conservationists do the bulk of the campaigning for the environment issue this year.

In signing the bills, however, the governor warned the effort against water pollution is "in jeopardy" because all the funds from the $1 billion Pure Waters bond issue of 1965 have been committed.

"Not only will these bills keep our Pure Waters Program alive, they will also reserve funds for combating air pollution, developing solid waste management systems and preserving unspoiled and unique lands that would otherwise be lost as environmental resources forever," Rockefeller said.

The governor said the voters' decision in November will determine "in no small measure the quality of life that we shall enjoy and the kind of state we will hand to our children and they to their generations."

A second bill in the program signed by Rockefeller detailed how the money would be spent. The bill earmarks $650 million to complete the pure waters effort, $150 million for air pollution control efforts and $350 million to safeguard valuable forests and coastlands.

The bonds would provide immediate cash, to be repaid with tax money in future years.

The Governor also said he had approved a highway repair financing scheme which the state's top auditor said violates the people's constitutional right to vote on such debts.

The Republican governor's announcement that he signed the bill on Tuesday carried no comment but was included in a list of other legislation he had signed.

The bill was introduced just a week before the end of the session and drew little attention until State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, a Democrat, issued a statement strongly attacking it.

Levitt said the measure would provide highway repair money that voters rejected last November as part of the $2.5 billion transportation bond issue.

The new law allows the state Thruway Authority to issue $100 million in bonds and to channel the money through the state Department of Transportation for highway repair.

Levitt, in Colorado to give a speech, was not available for comment on the signing of the bill.

Welfare Check... High Ineligibility Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — The state's welfare inspector general says his latest spot check of welfare eligibility leads him to conclude that there is a 20 to 30 per cent ineligibility rate among all relief cases here.

After two previous similar samplings, the state official, George F. Berlinger, had estimated that up to 27 per cent of New York City's welfare clients were not eligible for the relief they were getting.

Berlinger accused city social services officials Wednesday of manipulating statistics to arrive at their much lower reported percentage of ineligible cases, while deliberately expanding the welfare rolls.

"I think they felt it was going to give them votes," Berlinger said. "It was going to keep the city quiet."

His revised over-all estimate of ineligible cases was based on the new finding that 37 per cent of January's new relief cases at the Waverly Center in lower west Manhattan did not qualify for the aid, he said.

That finding was based on an investigation of 70 cases, or 10 per cent of the total admissions at the center that month. The center administers a total of 11,000 cases.

Robert Carroll, assistant administrator of the city Human Resources Administration, accused Berlinger of "inflating and distorting statistics" and maintained that state and federal quality control studies had found only 3 to 4 per cent ineligibility in the city.

Calling Berlinger's allegations "irresponsible and devious," Carroll said "he sets himself up as judge and jury and recklessly ignores federal and state law related to eligibility determination."

"Mr. Berlinger also knows that we have instituted the most sophisticated system of welfare department in the country to counter fraud and ineligible cases."

Meanwhile, New York City has lost a bid to get a federal court ruling on the constitutionality of mandated welfare costs which assertedly place a crushing burden on the city's economic base.

U.S. District Court Judge Edward C. McLean refused Wednesday to convene a three-judge court, although his 17-page decision was sympathetic toward the city's assertion that increasing welfare costs could bring on bankruptcy.

McLean threw out the suit filed personally 15 months ago by Mayor John V. Lindsay, saying states were not mandated to shoulder welfare costs and the federal government was not required to pay 100 per cent.

The complaint constitutes a well documented description of the plight of tax-paying citizens who are called upon to support the ever increasing number of citizens who pay no taxes and cannot support themselves," McLean wrote.

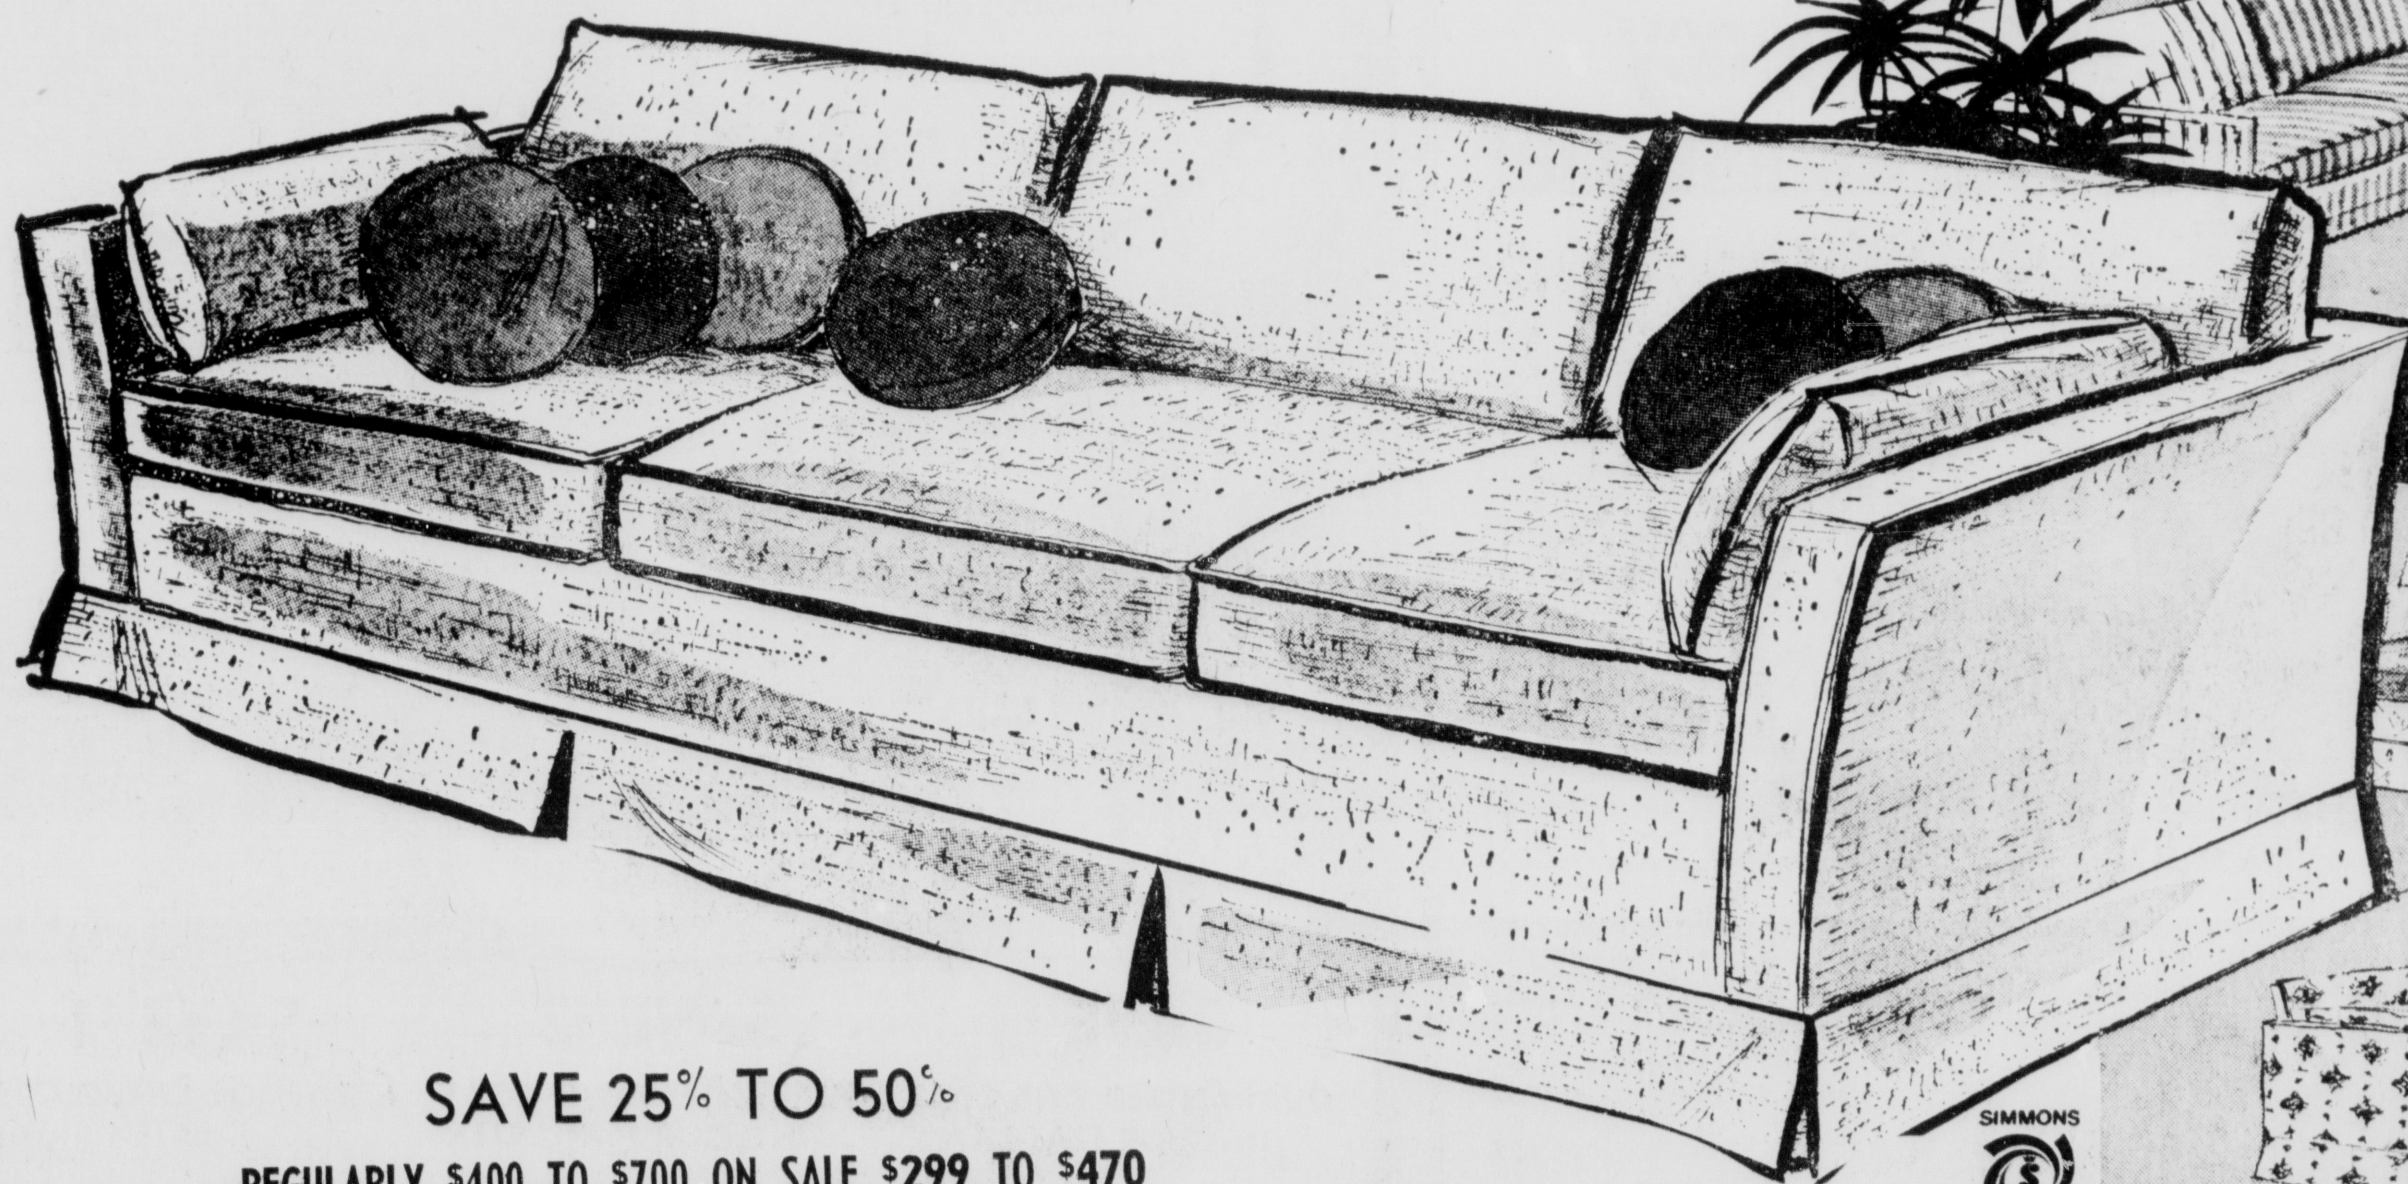

Lindsay had asked for the appointment of a panel of judges in the hope that the city could be relieved of its share of welfare costs. He estimated the city's share for the fiscal year ending June 30 at $600 million.

The federal government currently pays about half of the total cost of public assistance under the programs in question.

The state and city each pays 25 per cent.

New Paltz Village Suit

Court Ruling Favors Corporation

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ
Carrolls Equities Corporation is free to build a hamburger stand on Main Street in New Paltz, and a Village of New Paltz suit to condemn the property for a park has failed, according to a decision handed down Tuesday by Judge John L. Larkin of Kingston.

Larkin heard the arguments in the case in a special term of Supreme Court in Kingston Feb. 4. His decision in the matter was dated Tuesday, May 30, and the decision was filed Wednesday in the Ulster County Clerk's Office.

According to Larkin's decision, the village as the plaintiff in the action moved for a condemnation of the property (the former Unregland on Main Street), an order revoking the building and sign permits issued to Carrolls, an order permanently enjoining Carrolls from demolition and removal of the structure on the property, or as an alternative, an order permitting the village to enter immediately on the land "... and temporarily devote it to the public use."

Attorney for the village was Dominick Porto, the village attorney at the time of the suit. Attorneys for Carrolls were Harp, Harp & Lewis. Both firms are from New Paltz.

Larkin denied all four of the village's motions.

"The plaintiff's (village's) condemnation proceeding is dismissed. Defendant's demolition, sign and building permits heretofore issued are continued. The temporary stay heretofore granted by this Court is vacated and the defendant is allowed to proceed," said the judge's decision.

The village had been granted a temporary stay on construction by Carrolls while the case was before the court. Larkin's vacating of the stay leaves Carrolls free to proceed with construction.

The impending construction of the Carrolls on Main Street aroused the opposition of a number of Main Street residents. The main arguments against it were that the building would not be in harmony with the architecture of the surrounding area, and would increase congestion on Main Street, which residents feel already has a traffic problem.

The village board, in deciding to try to condemn the property, decided a park was needed in the downtown area, and by condemning the Unregland property for a park it could also keep Carrolls out.

Papers filed by the village in the suit noted the historical and architectural importance of the area, and said the land was needed as a park, and would help preserve the area.

Larkin cited section 175 of the Village Law, which says a village can act to preserve historical landmarks if it has ordinances to do so. He noted that the village had no such ordinances, "... nor is there any other village ordinance which had been called to this Court's attention, which would empower the Village to regulate and conserve certain historic places as provided for in the above statute (section 175)."

He further noted all the area along the Main Street in which the property in question is located is zoned for business. Trying to condemn the property for a park to protect historical sites, architectural and social relevancy of their village community," represented "... an unusual approach to village regulation of land use and preservation of historical and architectural style," said the judge.

Larkin determined the village's condemnation attempt was "... not done in good faith and with sound discretion" as the terms are defined in relevant cases.

Mayor Henry W. DuBois, contacted Wednesday said he had not yet seen Larkin's decision, and had heard about it only generally; he said he could not comment on it.

He said the village board would schedule a special meeting with its present attorney, J. Philip and, to discuss the matter, before deciding on its next course of action.

Water Papers Termed 'Satisfactory'

NEW PALTZ
The New York City Department of Water Resources said papers received from the Town of New Paltz Wednesday appeared "at first gaze" to satisfy its requirement for an application so the town might use city water properly.

Town officials seem to still not quite understand the whole affair.

At the last meeting of the New Paltz Village Board, the city department's letter to the village was read, stating the town had failed to make proper application for the water it was using from the city aqueduct.

The town buys its water from the village. It is the village aqueduct: some of the water is, in turn, sold to the water districts in the town and to the college.

Trustees John Sherwig and John Logan seized on the letter as proof that Town Supervisor Anthony J. Moriello hadn't answered his correspondence. Moriello, according to a recent dispute between town and village, seldom answered Logan's letters to him on police matters. Logan said he felt "very vindicated."

Moriello said Wednesday the city water matter had actually been left up to Town Attorney Wendel Harp. Moriello said no correspondence had reached the town board on the matter since the November water district hearing, when city officials indicated they wanted a formal application for the new district if it was going to use city water.

According to what Harp said Wednesday, that was because there was no correspondence to send to the board. After an initial exchange of letters, said the attorney, he had received nothing from the city since December.

Said Harp, "I thought they were completely satisfied."

Harp said he had requested a sample application from the city, but never got one. He said he also requested from the city a copy of the rules and regulations governing the use of city water and never got them.

According to a city water department spokesman, the reason the town did not get the sample application is because the department doesn't have been left up to Town Attorney any. "We just request certain information," said the spokesman, "there's no specific form."

Having no application form to follow, and being informed of the letter the city had sent to the village, Harp said he decided to just redo the application made to the state when the town applied for its new water district. He said he updated the application, and changed it to apply to the city. It was this the city department said it received Wednesday, and was satisfied with.

Harp said he thought there was some confusion with the city over whether this would be a new tap on the aqueduct. He said actually it was just like adding "another faucet" to the tap the village already has on the aqueduct.

According to the arrangements under which the city was granted the easements to lay the aqueduct, it has to give water to any duly constituted water district in certain areas, including Ulster County. What could the city do to any district getting water without making proper application? According to city water

Dedication Is Planned

WEST SHOKAN
The formal dedication of Olive Free Library will be held Saturday 2 p.m. at West Shokan.

Dr. Nasser Sharify, dean of the graduate school of information science, Pratt Institute, Brooklyn will make the dedication address.

Dr. Sharify has been Dean of Pratt Graduate School since 1968. The Iranian-born educator studied at the University of Teheran before coming to the United States to study and receive a Masters and Doctoral degree in Library Science from Columbia University, on a Ford Foundation Grant.

Dr. Sharify has held professional and administrative posts in the State University of New York, University of Pittsburgh, Library on Congress and has served as Director-General of Ministry of Education and Deputy Director of Library of Parliament of Iran.

He is the author of numerous books, papers, and articles in library science and related fields. He has also co-authored several publications.

He is, at present, chairman of the American Library Association, Library Education Division, Committee on Equivalencies and Reciprocity; UNESCO Panel, Committee on International Library School; Member, Great Britain Library Association; and Association des Bibliothécaires Français.

Candidates Are Invited

NEW PALTZ

All seven candidates for three positions on the New Paltz school board in the coming election have been invited to speak at a public meeting jointly sponsored by the American Association of University Women and the League of Women Voters.

John Ashton Jr., Peter Ford, George Goehren, Dr. John Hain, Donald Martin, Dr. Bart Wagner, and Dr. Harry White have been invited to appear on Wednesday, June 7, at the New Paltz Middle School, Manheim Boulevard and Main Street, beginning at 8 p.m.

AAUW and LWV officers said that the meeting will include an opportunity to ask questions from the audience and to meet the candidates informally over refreshments. The public is invited to attend and participate.

Edelmuth Successor

The question of which political faction has the prerogative in appointing a successor to the late county legislator Bill Edelmuth, seems to be boiling down to a matter of semantics.

Kingston's Democrat Mayor Frank Koenig claims that a provision in the city charter gives him the power to name a new man to the county board, and presumably the replacement will be a Democrat, as was Edelmuth.

In fact, the City Democratic Committee is reportedly considering William Davis and Orrie Riehl for the post.

But the Republicans haven't been idle either. At a meeting of the Republican City Committee two nights ago, Harry Kapreilian, who narrowly missed being elected to the legislature at the last election, received the GOP nod.

For further ammunition, Koenig cites a 1962 precedent in which then Mayor John Schwenk appointed a replacement to the old board of supervisors. The present mayor feels he has the same right as far as the legislature is concerned.

However, Peter J. Savago, chairman of the legislature, says the mayor is mistaken, claiming the present county legislature and the old board of supervisors are two differently constituted bodies, and no precedent has been established.

In any event, whomever is chosen, Democrat or Republican, after the smoke from this latest inter-party embroglio clears, will still evidently have to run again in a special election this November in order to retain the post. That, at least, is consensus opinion of various political legalists in the area.

All we can hope is that the boys straighten this one out eventually.

Drunk Driving Curb

The repeated alarms that alcohol drinking is involved in as many as half the traffic fatalities in this country have pushed legislation aimed at curbing drunken driving. The latest, signed into law by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, lowers the permissible level of alcohol in a driver's blood from 0.12 per cent to 0.10 per cent, still a very treacherous level for most persons.

Tests have indicated that a 150-pound man would have to drink five ounces of 80-proof liquor on an empty stomach to measure 0.10 per cent alcohol in his blood in a chemical test an hour later. However, the bill also provides that a person whose blood is found to have between 0.07 and 0.10 per cent of alcohol could have this finding used as prime facie evidence that he was driving while impaired. Such a warning is more realistic and should help cut down drunken driving.

The second bill on the same subject requires the police to notify the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles if a driver refuses to submit to a breath test to determine if he is intoxicated. Such refusal might result in revocation of the person's driver's license, a penalty that could be very persuasive. In this mobile age, loss of a driver's license is a serious inconvenience.

The old Safety Council saying, "Don't drink when you drive," still is the best precaution of all. A careful driver needs all his faculties on today's interstate highways with their maximum speeds of up to 70 miles per hour.

THE VICE PRESIDENCY — Three views on the vice presidency are being mulled over by politicians of both parties. Five months ago, President Nixon said Vice President Agnew "should stay on the team." A week ago, Agnew said it would be "totally unrealistic" to believe that the Republican National Convention would replace him with John B. Connally, a Democrat. Most recently, John N. Mitchell, manager of the President's reelection campaign, said the Number 2 post is "an open question." All three may be right.

FULBRIGHT ISOLATED — At 67 and in his fifth 6-year Senate term, Senator J. W. Fulbright has been isolated by administration tactics. His recent projects have been allowed to get to the floor, where he has been outvoted. Discouraged, he is raising the possibility in private conversations that perhaps he should retire at the expiration of his present term in 1975, if President Nixon is reelected and he cannot be effectual as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. His departure would remove a thorn in the administration's side.

WASHINGTON — Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., the esteemed House Foreign Relations chairman and a power in the backrooms of Washington, has two Pennsylvania state employees on his House payroll to do political chores for him.
Even as he skillfully steers foreign aid to nations abroad, Morgan directs other U.S. Treasury checks to two political errand boys at home, John "Jake" Morgan and Thomas H. Boyd. Both men also draw full-time salaries from the state of Pennsylvania.

In other words, the taxpayers are helping to pay Morgan's campaign costs while his opponents must do without federal aid.
The 50-year-old "Jake" Morgan, no relation to the Congressman, draws $6,717 from the U.S. Treasury and another $9,454 from Pennsylvania.

He is listed as a "clerk" for the House or Representatives and construction inspector for the Pennsylvania General State Authority. We reached him at a construction site and questioned him about his "clerical" duties.
"I'm tired of all you g-d-newspapers bothering people!" he roared. "Why don't you get a real job instead of sitting around on your —!" Then he slammed down the telephone.

Morgan's other political aide, 66-year-old Thomas Boyd, collects $9,500 a year from Pennsylvania as a field auditor and only $2,860 from the House of Representatives.

"Sometimes," he acknowledged, "we have his office all filled up with political clientele and patients and people wanting help when he gets in on the weekend."
Morgan also talked amiably to my associate, Les Whitten, about his two political henchmen.

"They're part of the political organization," Morgan explained. "Certainly they take part in political activities, but they have their field work — Veterans Administration, Social Security, black lung, and so on. I couldn't see how there would be any conflicts of interest."

Prisoner of Saigon

From time to time, we have reported on the fate of Truong Dinh Dzu, who was sentenced to five years of hard labor in South Vietnam after giving President Thieu a scare in the 1967 elections.
Dzu called for establishing a coalition government and negotiating an end to the war. He came in a strong second in the presidential election.
Alarmed, President Thieu sent Dzu to jail in 1968 on trumped-up charges. This would be equivalent to imprisoning Hubert Humphrey after he lost to Richard Nixon in 1968.

Last year, we reported that Dzu had been refused medical treatment in prison for a heart ailment. The U.S. mission made inquiries and was permitted to visit him.

As a result, the Saigon government sent Dzu to a hospital for a complete medical examination and notified the U.S. mission that Dzu would be released a year early.

This report was passed on to the White House which informed inquirers "that Mr. Dzu recently received a one-year reduction in sentence and is to be released on May 1, 1972."

May 1 has now come and gone. But Truong Dinh Dzu is still in prison.

Washington Whirl

WHO'S KIDDING — Adm. Isaac Kidd, the gung-ho new Navy material commander has distributed among his subordinates 2,500 picture cubes with his picture on three sides. For awhile, he also plastered the walls with enormous red posters featuring his heroic countenance and the legend: "What have you done for the fleet today?" For sailors at sea beyond sight of his posters, the Admiral dispatched cassette tapes bearing patriotic messages in the master's own voice. All this self-promotion, of course, was financed by the taxpayers.

KLEINDIENST'S LAW FIRM — Four years ago, the Phoenix law firm of Shimmel, Hill, Kleindienst and Bishop had no Washington office. But that was before Richard Kleindienst left the firm to become Deputy Attorney General. Suddenly, the firm was in great demand in Washington. It now has a full-time staff of five attorneys to handle its flourishing practice in the capital.

GAS INCREASES — We have written how Federal Power Commission Chairman John Naiskas, the natural gas lobby's best friend in Washington, has pushed through gas rate increases on grounds that this will encourage exploration for more gas. Yet, the Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management, in a draft environmental statement, seems to side with the housewives of America against the pronouncements of Naiskas and his industry cronies. "There yet is no positive indication," says the Interior Department office, "that such price increases have resulted in additional exploration and production."

SECRET PUBLICITY — Congress passed a law in 1913 which states: "No money appropriated by an Act shall be used for the compensations of any publicity expert unless specifically appropriated for that purpose." Yet even some of the government press agents, who are trying to sell the public on law and order, apparently, are violating this law. The FBI, for example, has a staff of special agents, who answer press questions. They have speech writers and copywriters and scriptwriters. They help prepare the FBI television series, and they conduct public tours. Yet the FBI solemnly denies that it employs any publicity men.

Bruce Biossat Says

Blue Collar Primary

LOS ANGELES (NEA) — The key battleground in the June 6 California primary is this city's sprawling stretch of blue-collar suburbs where alienation from "the system" grades into bitterness.

It is there, and in somewhat similar territory in the fertile San Joaquin Valley, that the struggle between Sens. George McGovern and Hubert Humphrey for California's 271 convention delegate votes should be settled.

For this critical bloc of Democratic voters, the best private polling evidence suggests the decision will be largely a choice among negatives. Says one skilled polling analyst:

Those people really don't like anybody who's running in this state. Their real choice is George Wallace."

Wallace, of course, lies in a Maryland hospital, partly paralyzed from gunshot wounds. A limited write-in campaign, under way in these final days, might produce surprising results but nothing like he might have achieved with a personal on-scene effort.

Careful soundings disclose, meantime, that McGovern is the second choice of two out of every three potential electorate in 1972, and McGovern and Wallace clearly are seen as the champions of protest.

For Humphrey, it is uphill all the way in the land of working class disenchantment. Too often, he is perceived as the very symbol of the discredited political past, the insistent reminder of so many things that turn off the 1972 voter — a drawn-out war, a stuttering economy, smothering taxes, a long string of broken political promises.

So far the celebrated Humphrey-McGovern television debates appear not to have altered the basic image contrasts between the two contenders.

Two different sets of polls give McGovern the statewide edge by a range of four to six points. He is riding a climbing chart line that took off for him two months ago in Wisconsin.

Yet his coolest consultants retain their fears of upset. The blue-collar battleground is seen as populated with voters who are essentially rootless, volatile in mood, floating in a kind of haze the poll-taker finds it hard to penetrate. There's a nagging feeling they could turn around in a flash. When just eight days of the campaign remained, one McGovern aide remarked:

"I wish we didn't have this evident lead this early. I'm afraid something might happen."

McGovern is considered to have his strong base in the populous San Francisco Bay area, to be making some inroads into Humphrey's strength with the influential Jewish community in Los Angeles, and to have much the stronger shot — at this moment in a setting where evidence ages quickly — with the blue-collar legions.

But still the doubts are there. Devoted aides think he hasn't broadened his vote base enough. They say Humphrey may be convincing many Californians McGovern's proposed defense cuts could cost more jobs in a job-starved state, and that the South Dakota's plan to scrap welfare and give all citizens a money grant may get mired in confusion skillfully spurred by Humphrey.

McGovern could win nicely, but it's a nail biter.

Ray Cromley Says

Meeting Presages Soviet Change

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Nixon's visit could force important domestic changes in Russia.

The shifts may not come quickly; but to a degree they seem almost inevitable.

The Kremlin may find it necessary to divert more of its production into meat, better clothes, more housing and household appliances, automobiles.

And perhaps allow a bit more personal freedom — not much, but some.

That's the considered opinion of some knowledgeable men in this administration.

These Kremlin watchers are conjecturing, of course. Their thinking is based on pressures already building up within Brezhnev's technical bureaucracy, and the expected weakening of the Soviet government's strongest argument for austerity and stringent security — the American "threat."

The pressures for a better deal for the consumer and more freedom have been growing steadily among the upper strata in Russia — the engineers, scientists, technicians, administrators and party functionaries on whom Brezhnev depends for survival and for the success of his programs.

But the Soviet leaders have been able to scrimp on the consumer, emphasize military and basic industrial production and bear down with a heavy hand on dissent because they have been able to picture Russia as ringed with enemies, threatened on all sides — especially by the United States with its Minuteman missiles, Polaris submarines, long range bombers and formidable aircraft carriers.

The Nixon visit won't make "the United States is threatening us" stance impossible but it certainly will be less creditable. And with the recent West German ratification of the new detente with Russia the "threat" of Western Europe cannot be painted in the dark colors usual in Kremlin propaganda.

China remains. But is China as convincing a threat as the Western capitalist countries? One may think credibility does not matter in a police state. It probably doesn't when speaking of the average Russian. But credibility does matter when Brezhnev deals with that 3 to 4 per cent — the experts, the technicians, the administrators — who run the machine. They could drive him out as Khrushchev was driven out. Analysts now believe economic failures were a major cause of Khrushchev's forced retirement.

The Soviet leaders will have other problems in keeping the lid down on what the upper strata of Russian citizenry wants. If commerce between Russia and the United States is to be increased, if Americans are going to give Russians help in developing their industry, if there is to be a greater exchange of scientists, there will be more contacts with Americans and their free-wheeling ways.

Already, the meetings between Russian, American and other Western scientists seem to have had some

Editor, The Freeman:

It was a delight to see in the Tuesday April 11 edition the pictures and names of the Socialist Labor Party standard bearers nominated by the National Convention of the Socialist Labor Party held in Detroit.

As a member of the Socialist Labor Party who has met with threats and hostility, I DO NOT like to see anybody hurt because of their politics.

I do NOT condone the attempt made to kill the Governor of Alabama even though I detest everything he stands for.

George Wallace is NOT a

The expansion of terrible reports of the alarming conditions at the State University at New Paltz have increased, so I decided to make a personal inspection. I talked with several persons at the scene and much of the facts given herein, which may be somewhat biased but the true and correct facts, could be fully disclosed with the cooperation and assistance of the administration, which could reveal the correct facts.

First, Hasbrouck Hall was checked. A modern kitchen with a cost of $263,000.00 glittering with stainless steel is unused. Some small units, and everything loose, has been removed, lost, strayed or stolen. The expensive rugs that once covered the floor in the dining room have been removed, rolled and dashed in an alley. Examination disclosed the rugs were burned, mostly with cigarette burns, that ran as high as six burns to the square yard.

The muteness of the kitchen was partly a result of the U. S. food stamp program. Naturally the students flocked to the method they received the most for their money, expended notwithstanding, that the dormitories were not wired or equipped for this change over. Expensive change over in wiring for the increased electric load and then there was the sale to the students by the administration of the small refrigeration units at a profit of $20.00 each.

It appears that Parker Hall is operating at a loss of $7,000.00 per month, which loss comes out of the taxpayers. How can we expect a good result with a reported two managers $20,000.00 each and a $43,000.00 so called consultant fee.

In room 23 of the Science Building we find a large South-bend precision lathe over 8 feet long, besides 10 other machines including turret lathes, screw cutting and machinery tools, unused, from which the packing grease had not been removed and the shipping tags attached thereto.

Near the planetarium, we find a large, expensive 8 foot telescope still in the plastic shipping covering that has laid on the floor for over three years, along with other unused telescopes. Although it was broad daylight, hundreds of 75 watt bulbs were unnecessarily burning in the hallways and on the veranda.

The security guards are called the "Glorified Errand Boys." Did you ever hear of any arrest made by the so called "security guards?"

The high rise tower is a blunder. In the northwest corner, as well as the southeast corner, a large stairwell extends from top to bottom. Then there are the large elevators in the center, leaving little space for actual use. This was so badly constructed that those high priced architects forgot to install air conditioning units which have now been installed for each room by breaking the outside building walls for every unit.

Everywhere damage and destruction of the students is visible.

In the basement we found 24 new T. V. Model CAM 909-EW 1 20 inch screen units, just removed from the shipping cartons. Will they suffer the same fate as the preceding units that disappeared?

Then there are the defaulted student loans, which will cost the taxpayers millions.

Was the student strike broken (as rumored) by buying off the leaders of the strike by creating and giving them fictitious jobs at elaborate salaries for doing nothing at the taxpayers' expense?

This is only a partial report—God bless this mess.

That artificial rock attached to the south side of the building, south of the high rise, we are informed, cost $31,000.00. This is hideous and grotesque.

In the midway between the high rise and the Science Building, and continuing southerly, is a midway with openings in the concrete blocks to walk upon, measuring 11" x 2 1/2" which are opportunities for injury to pedestrians.

The above are but a few of the flagrant conditions.

The present administrators of S.U.N.Y. have clearly shown their inability to operate and control the problems for which they are paid.

We have a long way to go to meet respectable standards. The conduct of those in charge will not extinguish the spirit and faith of our concerned citizens.

We must throw the bums out.

More than the stupendous sums wasted, is the quality of education that is being destroyed by the punks.

We are entitled to a full and detailed report of their stewardship.

Sincerely,
PETER H. HARP

Solon Salary

Editor, The Freeman:

I would like to know how much a State Senator makes in salary? Whatever the figure, I am sure it's more than the average working man brings home — and certainly Senator Schermerhorn hasn't earned it!

His views, his holier-than-thou attitude, and his lack of accomplishment certainly are not worthy of the salary we have to pay him. Why pay and get nothing in return.

I certainly hope Mr. Barone defeats Mr. Schermerhorn in the election so we can have a State Senator who will earn his paycheck.

Gilman Booster

Editor, The Freeman:

All too often in our day to day activities, we overlook exceptional work, and I certainly hope this will not be the case with Ben Gilman.

Never in my memory has any public servant performed in such a diligent and exemplary way. No one in his Assembly District has ever sought his help that it was not quickly and willingly given. Ben is now seeking the Republican nomination for Congress and I think it is high time that the voters in this area had the type of representation that Ben Gilman can give.

I sincerely urge all of you to support him in the primary and thereafter in the November election.

Yours very truly,

Fire Tax

Editor, The Freeman:

I address this letter primarily to the residents of the Bloomington Fire Protection District. On June 7 at 7:30 p.m. there will be a public hearing at the Bloomington Fire House. The purpose of this hearing is to discuss the renewal of the fire protection contract between the Bloomington Fire Company, Inc. and the Town of Rosendale.

Currently the Bloomington Fire Company charges the taxpayers of the Bloomington Fire Protection District $7,500.00 a year. Five years ago when the contract was up for negotiations the Bloomington Fire Company raised its fee from $5,000 to $7,500.00. One of the prime reasons for the increase was so they could pay off the mortgage on the new fire truck they had just purchased at that time. The important question today is, do they still need $7,500.00 per year for the next five years? There should be approximately $12,000.00 left to pay on that mortgage. This should be paid off in the next two years, I say "should be," because dispite the fact that I am a member of this fire company, their books are not open for my inspection at this time. This makes me suspect that the executive committee of said fire company may be trying to hide something. The answer to the above question is: they definitely do not need $7,500.00 a year for the next five years.

Now is the time for the executive committee to show that it has the interests of the taxpayers at heart. As a taxpayer of the Bloomington Fire Protection district I ask them to decrease their fire tax on us an amount that can be considered just and fair to both the taxpayers and the Bloomington Fire Company. I ask the members of the town board to demand a decrease.

I think that no less than $1,500.00 per year should be cut off the present contract. This gives them adequate funds to pay off the remainder of the mortgage and still build up a poverty conditions simply so they can pay their property taxes. Many senior citizens have been forced to sell their homes simply because they decrease the average home could not afford to pay the owner's fire tax about a dollar property taxes.

per year? Many homeowners in our community are senior citizens on fixed incomes. A dollar means a lot to these people. If a dollar was cut out of every tax levied on the taxpayer, these senior citizens would not be forced to live in a poverty conditions simply so they can pay their property taxes. Many senior citizens have been forced to sell their homes simply because they decrease the average home could not afford to pay the owner's fire tax about a dollar property taxes.

I ask all concerned taxpayers of this community to attend this hearing and express their dissatisfaction with high taxes.

Everyone is fed up with high taxes. Now is the time for the volunteer firemen of Bloomington and the Rosendale Town Board to do something about high taxes in an area where they have direct control over a particular tax.

I ask all concerned taxpayers of this community to attend this hearing and express their dissatisfaction with high taxes.

Respectfully yours,
ATTILIO A. CONTINI

Regionalism, Tuition Causing Disagreements

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — When

the administrators of the State University moved into new quarters in a building also housing the higher education division of the state Education Department, they saw a large banner saying:

"Welcome to the State University from your friends in the State Education Department."

The statement contained more than a little sarcasm, because the two bureaucracies — while publicly professing cooperation and admiration for each other — have feuded privately over several issues.

The State University is finding that the state Education Department is taking a new interest in the affairs of public and private higher education, over which it has overall jurisdiction.

The most notable of these disagreements recently concerned regionalism and tuition.

The State University suggests an informal setup between public and private colleges in various regions of the state. The state Board of Regents, drawing upon proposals by the state Education Department, wants a formal structure of regional boards answerable to the Regents.

The State University prefers flexibility in its dealings with private colleges in the state. The Regents ask a rigid structure with broad powers over all public and private relationships.

On tuition, the Regents — again using the proposals of the department — want great increases in State University tuition, along with expanded programs of student aid. The State University raised tuition but reluctantly — and not to the levels sought by the Regents.

Governor Signs Bill On Adoption Limiting

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, who vetoed one "Baby Lenore" bill last year, has signed into law a bill giving natural parents only 30 days to change their minds after putting children up for adoption.

The adoptive parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas DeMartino of Brooklyn, fled to Florida rather than comply with a court ruling that they give up the child.

The measure the governor approved would require that after 30 days, the parent could regain custody of the child only by going to court and proving fraud, duress or coercion.

In any case which came up during the 30-day period, the bill specifies, the courts would use the best interests of the child as the only criteria for making a decision.

Rockefeller said he vetoed the measure allowing courts to override an adoption agency's objections to an adoption because it would restrict the agencies from placing children in foster homes pending final adoption. The foster parents could seek to adopt the children and the agency could not intervene, the governor said.

Bobby Baker Out on Parole

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Bobby Baker, former secretary to the U.S. Senate Democratic majority, was released on parole today after serving 17 months for tax evasion, theft and conspiracy to defraud the government.

Baker, 43, left the federal penitentiary here at 8 a.m., got into a private car and drove away without talking to newsmen.

A former Senate page boy who rose to the secretary position, Baker was convicted in 1967 on charges related to the misuse of his authority. After several appeals, he entered prison on Jan. 14, 1971.

Baker's position had made him a key assistant to President Lyndon B. Johnson while the latter was Senate majority leader.

Lions Clubs Efforts Set For Seminar

A total of 10 Lions Clubs from throughout Ulster County have combined their efforts and will provide refreshments for the upcoming Senior Citizens Seminar to be held at Ulster County Community College on Hurley, Kerhonkson, Kingston, June 3, in accordance with plans developed at a meeting with Lions Deputy District

Governor Lew Kirschner, Zone Chairman Lee Heinze and Joseph Scholier, and Alexander Yosman, Coordinator of the Senior Citizens' Advisory Council.

The participating Lions Clubs are Town of Esopus, Highland, Hurley, Kerhonkson, Kingston, New Paltz, Onteora, Rondout Valley, Saugerties and Town of Ulster.

Yosman indicated that he is extremely pleased at this announcement. "This support," he said, "displays an awareness on their part to make our third seminar on the Ulster County Community College campus an overwhelming success."

Yosman urged all Senior Citizens to plan on attending this most important seminar.

Health Department Report ... Marriage, Divorce, Drugs

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — New Yorkers are marrying less, divorcing more, and more are suffering drug-related deaths than a year ago, the state Health Department's annual report showed today.

The document also included statistics covering the first year of the state's liberalized abortion law and listed New York's official population as 18,432,850. The report disclosed the following facts about 1971:

SEEC Outlines Summer Events

KINGSTON
SEEC, an organization of sighted members, sponsored by the Kingston Lions Club, is seeking members from the blind in Ulster County.

Mattie Johnson, membership chairman, said today, "We have a program for the 1972-73 season that will appeal to the varied interests of our members," she added. "A political issues and answers period, a string quartet, a picnic and a country-western show are among the highlights of our coming season."

Mrs. Johnson, past president of SEEC was appointed to chair the membership committee by the current president, Dora Hamma at the May 25 meeting.

Other committees and their chairmen were: Contact, for shut-ins and the ill—Dorothy Slater, first vice president; Economics, to help the blind find their way in the fiscal world—Gary Carlson; Communications, birthday and special occasion cards for members—Christine DuBois, corresponding secretary; Cultural — Elsie Ford, Social—Rose DeNardo; Educational—Josephine Terwilliger; Refreshments and Historical—Peg Gruberg; Sports—Larry Guistino; Official Greeter and contact with SEEC's adopted orphan from Taiwan—Joan Bouton.

—The death rate of 10 per 1,000 was the lowest even. It was two per below 1970 and represented a continuing decline.

—The birth rate of 15.4 per 1,000 is 11 per cent below last year, and is the lowest since 1941.

—Infant mortality declined to 18.7 per 1,000 live births, down four per cent from the year before. Maternal deaths also dropped, with 30 deaths during the first eight months of the compared with 71 in 1970.

—The estimated death rates from heart disease, cancer, stroke, pneumonia, tuberculosis and total accidents were lower than the preceding year, while the estimated death rate for diabetes rose slightly.

—The death rate from narcotics, 5.3 per 100,000, increased 32 per cent over 1970.

—The number of recorded marriages, 158,700, declined two per cent.

—Dissolution of marriages increased 25 per cent over 1970 to an estimated 33,000.

An estimated 215,453 induced abortions were performed in the state between July 1, 1970 through June 30, 1971. Fifty-four per cent were on non-residents and 61 per cent for women under 25 years old. The maternal death rate from induced abortions was 6.5 per 100,000. The maternal mortality rate associated with all other causes was 19 per 100,000 live births and fatal deaths.

Insurance ID Moratorium Is Declared

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — A two-week moratorium has been declared on the new requirement that New York State drivers must carry identification cards to prove they are insured, it was disclosed today.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Vincent L. Tofany ordered the moratorium in effect up to and including June 15. Under law, the requirement was to have gone into effect today, but Tofany apparently instituted the two-week delay because some insurance companies have been slow in getting out the cards.

Notification of the moratorium was carried in a state police Teletype message to "all points."

The cards are required under a new law designed to crack down on uninsured motorists. The cards, mailed out to car owners by their insurance companies, should be carried in glove compartments.

Woman Injured In Mishap

NEW PALTZ
A 44-year-old Ellenville woman was injured at 1:40 p. m. Wednesday when she was reportedly hit by a truck on Route 299 at the Thruway overpass, according to town police.

Agnes Irwin, who was identified by police officials as a patient at Hudson River State Hospital, was taken from the scene of the mishap to Vassar Hospital by Fatum's Ambulance Service of this township. It was reported she sustained a fractured shoulder and leg injuries.

Town police said Donald I. Brackett, 40, of Saratoga, was driving a tractor-trailer east on the highway when he saw a woman walking on the shoulder of the road in his direction. Police reported the woman started to run toward the truck as the operator swerved in an attempt to miss her.

The tractor-trailer reportedly jackknifed and the back of the vehicle hit the woman and knocked her to the pavement, according to police. Patrolman William Luedeke investigated.

Former Newspaper Reporter Will Run Against Robison

By LYNN MULVANEY

BINGHAMTON A 24-year-old Binghamton former newspaper reporter and graduate student at SUNY Binghamton will oppose veteran 14-year Republican Congressman Howard W. Robison for Congress in Ulster County's new 27th Congressional District.

He is Patrick O'Neil, a Conservative, who announced his candidacy recently and is pinning his hopes of winning on his being able to explain to the predominantly Republican voters of the district that Robison, over the years has changed from a Conservative-minded lawmaker to a very liberal one.

Robison, he said, has been given a rating of 20 by the American Conservative Union, scoring no higher than Bella Abzug, (D-Manhattan) who is considered to be among the most liberal members of Congress.

O'Neil and Robison will also battle the Democratic candidate David H. Blazer for the post.

The former Binghamton Sun-Bulletin reporter, in making his announcement said, "The Howard Robison I hope to unseat is a relative newcomer to politics. The Howard Robison who served this district for a decade and a half has inexplicably disappeared, and has been replaced by a man who looks like him, who has a voice like his, but whom the old Howard Robison would never have supported for public office."

O'Neil said the old Robison stood firmly for limited government for free enterprise, for countering Communist aggression, for a militarily prepared America and for the vigorous exploration of space.

"The new Robison, the man I must face this November, would scorn the old Robison as a curmudgeon and a fuddy-duddy. I praise the old Robison and I represent the old principles for which he stood."

O'Neil is head resident and year round resident on the Binghamton campus, is a life member of the American Rifle Association and a member of the Young Americans for Freedom. He said he has actively worked for Conservative candidates in the past including Sen. Barry Goldwater and Sen. James Buckley.

He said he does not believe Robison can properly represent the district because its residents hold views more conservative than the incumbents.

A native of Norwich he is a graduate of Harpur College and will receive his masters degree in English literature in June.

The 27th District includes all of Broome, Tioga and Sullivan Counties and parts of Delaware, Tompkins and Ulster counties, including Woodstock, Hurley, Shandaken, Olive, Hardenbergh, Denning, Gardiner, New Paltz, Rochester, Rosendale, Marletown, Town of Kingston and Wawarsing.

If elected, O'Neil would become one of the youngest congressmen in American history. The U.S. Constitution requires members of Congress to be at least 25 and O'Neil's 25th birthday is Dec. 3 — a month before he would take office next Jan. 3.

Barone Levels Charges

MONROE In still another barrage of charges, Anthony M. Barone, Republican candidate for State Senator in Ulster's new 40th Senatorial District, today blasted his June 20 Primary opponent State Sen. Richard E. Schermerhorn as "the most arrogant, egotistical, elected official" he has ever known.

The Orange County legislator also suggested that the also suggested that the Republican-Conservative Schermerhorn "has done nothing to further the quality of education in New York State."

Barone said that "A remark passed by the senator recently before the Town of Newburgh Women's Republican Club, 'showed the man's true colors. When the subject of off-track betting for Orange County came up, Sen. Schermerhorn said, 'OTB is one area where (he) is willing to yield to the local community? I can only wonder what prompted the senator to finally give in to the wishes of the people,' Barone said."

"Sen. Schermerhorn," charged Barone, "since his election to the Senate two years ago, has set himself up as a one-man authority on what the people should or should not have. The Orange County Legislature, charged by the people to function in their best interest, has, on numerous occasions solicited the aid of Schermerhorn, but received instead, scorn, arrogance, and demands that it bow to the senator's wishes."

Barone also charged that Schermerhorn has "become obsessed with his idea that removal of the present state education commissioner, and election of his successor by the State legislature, will improve education. That kind of thinking," said Barone, "is absurd."

"The senator has waged a one-sided verbal battle campaign, but has failed to work for any intelligent, logical legislation to improve our educational system," he said.

"To remove the present Commissioner from office, and replace him with someone else, will certainly not affect the

Roosevelt, Dyson Back McGovern

POUGHKEEPSIE candidates in Ulster and Dutchess Counties and Roosevelt, Jr. and John S. Dyson today announced their support of George McGovern slate for President in the 25th Congressional District.

Both Dyson, a former Democratic Congressional consideration, we have decided to support Sen. McGovern in the New York Primary on June 20. Our goal is to defeat Nixon in November, and we feel that only a united party in this district and in New York State can win.

"Sen. McGovern has many admirable personal traits that he has demonstrated in his public career, especially candor, deep convictions, and an ability to speak out on controversial issues."

Dyson said that "in making this decision, we examined each of the currently active candidates' positions on many issues. We most strongly agreed with Sen. McGovern on the need to end the war in Vietnam, to revitalize our rural area, to rebuild our cities, to reform our tax structure and to eliminate hunger in America.

"Also, since Sen. McGovern has visited the counties of the Hudson Valley, he is aware of our concerns and of the need to clean up our great rivers like the Hudson," Dyson concluded.

Magnarella Gives Views on Taxing

PHILIP J. Magnarella, Democratic candidate from the 99th Assembly District has announced his intention to support the graduated income tax as being the most progressive form for financing education in New York State.

"The present system of taxing property is both regressive and unfair. When first used to finance education, property tax affected only the wealthier people in this country. Today, this form of taxation, affects everyone regardless of his ability to pay," Magnarella said. He went on to say "I believe the State Legislature should act on the Fleischmann Commission recommendations and consider devices which would not increase the individuals total tax but spread the cost around so that everyone pays his fair share. This would mean the tightening and eliminating of all tax loopholes. If you consider that the oil, gas and mineral exemptions alone would account for $10,000,000 in additional revenue, one must wonder how many other millions are being prevented from reaching public services through the present system of exempt income."

"If any people should be exempt from paying school taxes I feel it should be our senior citizens," Magnarella added. "They have made their contribution to society and paid their fair share and should be allowed to live out their lives with greater flexibility, spending it in pursuit of personal fulfillment and not being driven out of their homes by rising costs and taxes. They have borne their share of the burden long enough."

State GOP Dinner Set June 8

NEW YORK CITY
The New York Republican State Committee's 24th annual dinner will be held Thursday, June 8 in the ballrooms of the New York Hilton and Waldorf Astoria in New York City. Republican State Chairman Charles T. Lanigan announced today.

Lanigan explained that the dual location for the dinner was necessitated by the expectation that it will be "the best attended dinner in the history of the New York Republican Party."

State Sen. Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges will be master of ceremonies at the Hilton dinner gathering and Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea will serve in the same capacity at the Waldorf.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz and U.S. Senators Jacob Javits and James L. Buckley will make appearances at both hotels.

A luncheon hosted by Governor and Mrs. Rockefeller will be held the same day in the Hilton for members of the state committee, county chairman and vice chairman and other party leaders.

Rosendale Sets Zoning Hearings

ROSENDALE
The Zoning Board of Appeals of the Town of Rosendale will conduct two public hearings June 6 at the town clerk's office.

The first will be at 7:30 on appeal of Antonio Viviani for a special use permit to construct and operate a restaurant at Lucas Avenue Extension, Cottekill, property commonly known as the former Fini Farm.

The second hearing will be at 8:30 on appeal of John D. Cannon for a variance to permit the construction of a garage encroaching on the side yard minimum requirements on his property on Old Country Road, Binnewater.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices edged higher in moderate trading today.

The 10:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up .07 to 960.79.

Advances and declines ran neck and neck on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the market was still caught in the forces of downward readjustment pressures which were expected following the sharp gains in the market which sent the Dow average ahead some 46 points in less than 3 weeks.

Analysts also said many investors might have stepped to the sidelines to await president Nixon's address on his recent visit to the Soviet Union tonight.

Big Board prices included Texaco, up 1/4 at 33; Curtiss Wright, up 1/4 at 37 1/2; Xerox, off 1/4 at 151 1/2; IBM, up 3/4 at 401; and Union Carbide, off 1/4 at 50.

Area Man Is Sentenced in County Court for Burglary, Criminal Possession

KINGSTON The defendant was credited with four months and 10 days already spent in jail. He was represented by Richard Anthony.

Raymond Von Nostrand, 28, of 22 Stuyvesant Street, Kingston, was sentenced in County Court Wednesday to six months in Ulster County Jail on charges of burglary in the third degree, criminal possession of stolen property, second and third degree.

Von Nostrand was accused of the burglary of the Maennerchor Building on Greenkill Avenue, Kingston, June 22, 1971.

Presiding Judge Raymond J. Mino adjourned to June 14 the case of Edward Whitaker, 23, of Ellenville, who also was due to be sentenced on a charge of criminally selling a dangerous drug in the third degree (heroin).

His attorney, Alex J. Nirenberg, asked for the adjournment because, he said, Whitaker has been adjudged a drug addict and is seeking entry into a drug rehabilitation program.

Whitaker was arrested in a December 1971 drug raid.

Another defendant, Brian Morell Benson, 20, of RD 2, Saugerties, in Ulster County Jail on a violation of probation, had his case postponed until June 14 when Judge Mino will pronounce sentence.

Benson, who was represented by Edward T. Feeny, originally entered a plea of guilty to he did not want to go to prison.

Another defendant, Anthony "Rocky" Johnson of 19 Van Deusen Street, Kingston, also sentence, Johnson was arrested due for sentencing Wednesday on a burglary charge Feb. 18, had his case postponed to June 1972 when he was found on the program of his own volition, a violation of probation.

Benson's robbery conviction followed the armed holdup of the High Woods Liquor Store, taken from the proprietor, Eric Rabenstein.

Judge Mino reserved decision after Benson told the court that to hit the streets.

Benson said he had a job to 14. Arrested in a drug raid premises of 15 Van Duesen Street, Kingston.

The case was adjourned, according to District Attorney Francis J. Vogt, in anticipation of a dangerous drug in the fifth of disposition of the burglary degree, (barbituates) Also, charge in order that Johnson criminal possession in the sixth can be sentenced on both the degree (marijuana).

City Police Arrest Man

KINGSTON A Kingston man was arrested Wednesday by city police on a charge of criminal trespass first degree after he allegedly entered an apartment on Downs Street.

Manley D. Burdett, 43, whose address was listed as 97 Downs Street, was scheduled for arraignment before Special City Judge George A. Beck.

The complainant, Charles Grunewald of the Downs Street address, accused the defendant of going into his rooms without permission.

Michael Leopold

The Other Day

A philosopher friend asked us if we knew what it was that if we give it away we always have more left than before we gave it away, and the more we give, the more we have left. "The answer," he said, "is Love, and the simplest way to prove it is to put it into general practice for a month or two." He also quoted a real sour cynic who, he says, said, "The trouble with babies is that they grow into people." "The happiest answer to the cynic," he said, "is the truth that sourness begets only more sourness." Well, all we can say is that you'll really love our sweet values!

Recycling Drive Saturday in Rosendale

ROSENDALE
The Rosendale Environmental Commission has announced the fourth recycling drive will be held Saturday (June 3) at the Rosendale Shopping Center parking lot from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Newspapers and magazines, bottles of all types and aluminum will be accepted. It is requested that the bottles be washed and any metal caps or rings removed. Newspapers and magazines should be tied securely in bundles of 25 pounds or less.

The commission is in the process of setting up five sub-depots through the township where glass and aluminum may be deposited at any time. Paper will have to be held for scheduled drives which are slated for July 8 and Aug. 5 in addition to Saturday's collection.

Lee Comar, chairman of the Rosendale Environmental Commission said anyone interested in the work of the commission may contact him or attend the next public meeting of the group.

KINGSTON district, and council levels, merit badge counselors, and in the women's reserve.

For many years women have served as Den Mothers with Cub Scout packs, but now their talents are being used in other programs of the Boy Scouts of America in this area.

James Dwyer, president of the Rip Van Winkle Council, BSA, announced today that women may be registered in a number of positions in Cub Scout packs, Scout troops, and Explorer posts.

In addition to 260 Den Mothers in Ulster and Greene Counties, there are more than 75 women serving on unit,

Three Big Dates for Scouts... Jamboree Begins Friday Night

KINGSTON include old bottles, tables, small trunks, chests, fireplace chairs, old toys, games, old equipment, typewriters, golf farm tools, dishes, pottery, clubs, lawn equipment and quilts, old lamps, old books, others.

Three big dates are in store for Kingston and area Boy Scouters.

The first is Friday night, June 2, when hundreds converge on the Ulster County Fairgrounds for a weekend jamboree.

Another June special is set for June 30 when Scouts and Explorers will leave for the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico.

The other upcoming special will be held in conjunction with the annual Ulster County Fair in August when the Scouts will hold their first annual auction.

The June 2 jamboree, sponsored by Rip Van Winkle Council, The three-day event, with Martin Kennedy of Woodstock as chairman, will concentrate on outdoor living and will feature an Olymp-o-ree Saturday afternoon and the usual campfire that night. Among the features at the latter are scheduled to include Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr., Floyd Patterson and members of Sing-Out Saugerties.

Others prominently involved in the June 2 event include Arthur Betz, Bill Carroll, Peter Marsh, Oliver Tweedy, G. Ernest Smith, Joseph Kamper, William Gelsichter, the Rev. Joseph LeBar and Roger Rosenkrantz.

The expedition to New Mexico will consist of 20 boys and four leaders from Rip Van Winkle Council. The leaders will be Richard Raible, Kingston, Ronald C. Latz Sr., Port Ewen, Nelson Barnett, West Hurley and Fuller Walker, New Paltz.

On the Philmont trails the Scouts will participate in various programs offered in many mountain camps by more than 400 trained staff members. These programs include earth science, gold panning, rock climbing, archaeological study and digging, burro packing and horseback riding.

The Philmont scouters are due to arrive home on July 14. Many items are needed for the first annual action at the County Fairgrounds in New Paltz next August.

Port Ewen Troop Has a Campout

Twenty-three Scouts and five Sr., and Robert P. Tremper. Troop 26 is sponsored by the Reformed Church of Port Ewen and meetings are held every Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Scout rooms downstairs.

Led by Scoutmaster Gordon A. Craig Jr. and Assistant Scoutmaster Michael P. Reilly with assistance from Committee members James A. Berlew, John D. Chontos and James E. Powers, the following boys practiced many scouting skills from Friday night through Sunday afternoon: John Bowman, Michael Bradley, James Chontos, Randy Crego, Arthur Cross, Michael Donnelly, William Dunn, David Ebel Jr., Bruce Eberlein, Harry Grubbaugh, Harry Hutton, Robert Hutton, Brian Moroney, Raymond Mendock, Ronald Mendock, Thomas Morgan, Steven Powers, Rudy Schlichting, Steven Soffos, John Tremper, Steven Tremper, Michael Werner and Thomas Wolf.

Highlights of the weekend campout were: Sleeping on hay in an old dairy barn, building the breakfast fires in freezing weather, constructing a rustic bridge of logs and planks over a stream, eating a Saturday dinner prepared especially by several members of the Gun Club and attending church services in the college town of Delhi.

Transportation for the 130 mile roundtrip was provided by Scoutmaster Craig, Committee members Chontos and Powers together with Committee members Arthur E. Cross, David Ebel SCOUTERS ON COAST—Kingston area scouters recently attended the 62nd annual meeting of the Boy Scouts of America in Los Angeles, Calif. The Rev. James Lebar, chaplain of Rip Van Winkle Council, BSA (L) and Arthur D. Betz of Kingston, national council representative, meet to discuss future agenda of convention. The annual meeting, attended by some 1,000 adult Scouting leaders, afforded scouters an opportunity to view new major revisions in the scouting program to be implemented locally next fall.

Centennial ... Program Set

By TIM SCHUSTER

TIVOLI—One hundred years ago June 6 the people of the villages of Madalin and Tivoli incorporated into the Village of Tivoli, some 78 years after an abortive attempt to begin a planned community failed.

The "river people," landed gentry, of Tivoli joined together with the working people of Madalin to form a small, but thriving area which is seeing a revival of interest these past half-dozen years.

Preparation for the Centennial Celebration, June 9-11, has been going on for about nine months with residents from all walks of life involved in the myriad aspects.

Fittingly, community groups from both sides of the Hudson River have been invited to join in the celebration. The Tivoli-Glasco "Airline" ferry was discontinued only in 1958.

Coordinating the program in large part have been Bernard Tiger, a Bard College sociology professor, and Victor Salladin, enterprising grocery store proprietor with a varied musical background.

And the dedication has obviously paid off. Entertainment, both participatory and spectator, lines up for the weekend in the following manner:

FRIDAY—7 p.m. Miss Tivoli contest at Legion Hall; 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Village Ball at Old Tivoli School.

SATURDAY—9-12 a.m. track and field at Memorial Park; 11 a.m. drum and bugle corps competition at park; 1 p.m. old time movies at Legion Hall; 1 p.m. pie baking contest at Faith Tabernacle.

Also 3-5 p.m. centennial parade down Broadway; 6 p.m. flag burning ceremony at park; 7 p.m. local musical groups at park; and 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. block party-dance at Broadway and Montgomery Streets.

SUNDAY—11 a.m. magic show for children at Legion Hall; 1-5 p.m. tour of old homes; 2-4 p.m. entertainment at outdoor showmobile including New Frontier Chorus, county players, and IBM Chorus; 2-4:30 p.m. softball at park; 4 p.m. auction at St. Sylvia's Church barn; 3 p.m. Order of Eastern Star tea at Masonic Temple.

And from 7-9 p.m. the Hudson Valley Philharmonic with the New York Rock and Roll Ensemble in the park; 9:30 p.m. raffle drawing at showmobile; and 9:30 p.m. square dance at Old Tivoli School, music by Slowpokes.

In addition, booths of refreshments and souvenirs will be in full swing Saturday and Sunday with the art show and special Tivoli Museum open all weekend.

The people of Tivoli like to say that they have the only municipal sewerage system and fine water supply in Northern Dutchess County. Larger villages of Red Hook and Rhinebeck must look forward to the inevitable expenditure in the future to handle the increasing population with sewerage systems.

And the present village administration has also been forward looking picking up some 90 acres of prime land for a song on back taxes. They are working toward development of Tivoli Acres through private sources. A comprehensive zoning law was passed early this year with such residential growth in mind.

Pierre DeLabigarré, the Frenchman whose dream never reached fruition in 1794 with his "dream town" on the Hudson, might even approve of the village in 1972. There is optimism everywhere.

Summer Interns Named to Staff

POUGHKEEPSIE—Three summer law interns have been named to the staff of the Dutchess County District Attorney's Office, according to DA Albert M. Rosenblatt, pursuant to a $1,600 federal grant.

The students will function as aides to Assistant District Attorneys and as recipients of consumer type complaints from members of the public throughout the county.

"We found that the service of these students is immensely valuable to relieve some of the burdens from our overworked Assistant District Attorneys," he said.

In addition to these three law students, four college students have been hired pursuant to a grant from the Poughkeepsie Area Fund.

The law students are: Bruce A. Petito, Victor K. Looper Jr., and Paul E. Pool. Rosenblatt noted that "it provides a worthwhile opportunity for young people to practice some of their idealistic objectives in public service and is thus most beneficial to all."

Petito is a Poughkeepsie resident, and has completed his second year at Syracuse University College of Law. Looper lives in Beacon and has completed his second year at Albany Law School. He has finished his first year at Washington and Lee University School of Law.

Kenny Brown...Progress Heartwarming

By LYNN MULVANEY
STONE RIDGE
The lower part of little Kenny Brown's damaged brain is beginning to function — thanks to thousands of hours of volunteer help the three-year-old Atwood youngster has received from neighbors, friends and strangers throughout the Hudson Valley.

At one time Kenney couldn't see, couldn't crawl and couldn't talk but he is doing all these things now to some extent due to the program of "patterning" that has been carried on for more than a year.

Patterning is accomplished by teams of three persons who employ a system of rehabilitation by training the brain via the senses.
Every day, several times a day, people from all over the county have been coming to the home of Kenny's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Brown to assist Kenny in his physical therapy.
"And he is doing great!" according to Mrs. Ellen Kitsos of Kingston, coordinator of the therapy program. "But," she adds "the patterning program must be kept up if the progress is to be continued and we are running short of volunteers."

If he continues to get the treatment, she explained, it is possible for him to recover from the brain damage, visual problems and motor under development.
Describing the recent feats performed by Kenny, Mrs. Kitsos told of his being able to speak words and phrases as Mommie and Dad, go car and "no more" when he feels he has had enough of the exercises.
On part of Kenny's present rehabilitation program which he enjoys most is hanging upside down for four minutes while putting blocks in a bucket.

The transformation from the once fragile child who could not even hold his head up for any amount of time into a responsive, child with a "sense of humor" is heartwarming, Mrs. Kitsos said.
Since The Freeman first published the plight of the youngster, volunteers have flocked to answer the call for a few hours of time each week. But, over the past year a number of persons have had to drop out of the program for a variety of personal reasons and now the call for more volunteers is necessary once again.

Mrs. Kitsos pointed out that if the persons who first volunteered in the beginning and became discouraged could see "the marvelous things" that are being accomplished with continued therapy, they would rejoice.
A clinic under whose guidance the patterning program is operating is also pleased with the progress, according to Mrs. Brown, whose husband is a teacher in the Rondout Valley Central School.
Anyone interested in volunteering to aid Kenny may call or write Mrs. Kitsos, The Boulevard, Kingston.

Graduating Red Hook Senior Seeking School Board Seat

By TIM SCHUSTER
RED HOOK
A graduating Red Hook High School senior will be a candidate for a seat on the Board of Education June 14, and he told The Freeman why.

Christopher Melley, 18, wants to "open up the channels" between the students and the Board. He described the current hierarchy as forwarding a gripe to the teacher the administration, and finally to the Board.
While this works fine in practice, Melley said that students "have a fear" of approaching the Board on matters. "There is this mystique," he said, "even though the Board is available."

He feels that he can close this gap in communication and make the decision-making process more responsive to the students. "Almost everything the Board does affects the students," he commented, adding that this fear would be minimized by having a youthful approach embodied there.

Melley has been accepted at Marist College and plans to begin classes there in September, but stated that he will be back and forth from Poughkeepsie frequently, maintaining a close liaison with the area. He is president of his senior class and has an older brother, Steven, who just graduated from Colgate University.

"Of course I don't have experience," he said, but thought he could add "something lacking" through a youthful approach.

There are some ramifications that might only appear in a small and integrated community such as Red Hook, Chris' father is James Melley, a trustee on the village Board of Trustees.
The mayor of Red Hook is

Robert Bowman, who also happens to be vice president of the Board of Education and who is running for reelection this month.
Will Christopher Melley be permitted to serve if, by chance, he is elected to the Board of Education?
The question is still to be answered.
A bill passed by the State Legislature has specified that the 18-20 year-olds may not run for office, but this has not yet been signed into law.

River Estates Slipping Away

By TIM SCHUSTER
RHINEBECK
One by one the large Hudson River estates, reminiscent of a past grandeur that few can now afford, slip away to corporations, institutions, or new owners of a different breed.
There were many in Rhinebeck, owned by European or American "royalty" of one kind or another. One was recently sold to a New York market researcher and another promises to be up for sale in the near future.
The former is the famed Grasmere, owned by Mrs. Louise C. Timpson, former 11th Duchess of Argyll, who died in 1970. The estate was offered for sale at that time for $150,000, and was recently purchased by Leonard Spector, executive vice-president of the Audits and Surveys, Inc., a Church.

market research and public opinion survey firm. Spector has lived in Scarsdale, and reportedly intends to use Grasmere as a summer home.
And a three-day estate sale of hundreds of antiques and memorabilia from "Evergreen Lands," a large estate three miles south of the village of Rhinebeck, is scheduled for June 8, 9, and 10.
This estate was owned by the late Laura F. Delano, a cousin to President Franklin Roosevelt, and includes a large English Tudor house and several smaller buildings on more than 100 acres of land.
William P. Fells, Rhinebeck, will be auctioneer and the sale will be held under a tent, for beginning at 9:45 a.m. each day. The estate is located off Route 9 on a private drive next to the Hillside Methodist Church.

COUNTRY FAIR SATURDAY — Members of the Junior League of Kingston are completing plans for their country fair slated for Saturday from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m. at Forsyth Park. On the committee are (L-R) Mrs. Paul H. Johnson and Mrs. Joshua Koplovitz, co-chairmen of the fair; Mrs. Theodore Peck, food chairman and Mrs. Timothy Moore, publicity. Also serving on committees are Mrs. Ralph Smith, games chairman and Mrs. Richard Mathews, co-chairman of Food. The fair will open with a colorful bike parade around Forsyth Park. A variety of games and special features for the whole family will be held all afternoon. Howard Rusts band will provide music for the occasion. All proceeds from the fair will be used in the Junior League's Community Fund. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Legal Secretaries Install New Officers; Guests Listed

ULSTER COUNTY LEGAL SECRETARIES held their fifth annual installation dinner May 17 at Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston. Among those in attendance were (L-R) Raymond J. Mino, Ulster County Judge; Mrs. Bette Maxson, outgoing president; Bernard A. Feeney Jr., installing officer; Mrs. Karen Bitonte, incoming president; and William Gruner, president, Ulster County Bar Association.

Approximately 170 members, guests and friends attended the fifth annual installation dinner of Ulster County Legal Secretaries Association which took place recently at Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston. New officers for the 1972-73 year were installed in an impressive ceremony conducted by Bernard A. Feeney Jr. Officers include Mrs. Karen Bitonte, president; Mrs. Uldine Rauner, vice president; Mrs. Anna Mary Grote, recording secretary; Mrs. Connie Strunk, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. Margaret Garvita, treasurer; Mrs. Carmela Cruise, NALS representative, and Mrs. Bette Maxson, governor.

Guests included John L. Larkin, justice of the Supreme Court; Raymond J. Mino, Ulster County judge; Hugh R. Elwyn, Family Court judge; Thomas J. Saccoman, conciliation commissioner; William Gruner, president of Ulster County Bar Association; Hubert A.

Richter, City Court judge; George A. Beck, assistant City Court judge; and Albert Spada, Ulster County clerk.

Outgoing president, Mrs. Bette Maxson was presented with a gift from the officers and members to commemorate her successful year. Mrs. Maxson reported on the past year's events and expressed appreciation to members for their cooperation during the year, especially to Mrs. Beatrice Zebree, Mrs. Geraldine Costello, Mrs. Patricia Vernooy, Mrs. Carmela Cruise, Mrs. Ann Naccarato, Mrs. Vera Elliott, Mrs. Karen Bitonte for the dinner arrangements.

Membership in the Ulster County Legal Secretaries Association is made up of those persons licensed to practice law or engaged as a secretary, stenographer, typist or clerk in any law office; any person employed by the courts, the trust departments of banks or trust companies, or in any public offices of the United States government, states, cities, counties or municipalities.

Friendly Church Spouse-Swap?

DEAR ABBY: I think I can top the story about the couple who announced at their 25th wedding anniversary party that they were getting a divorce:

On Sunday, March 5th of this year, our minister announced from the pulpit that he was leaving in June for a new assignment. He said that he and his wife were being divorced, after which he would marry a local medical doctor's wife, who was going with him to his new assignment.

He also announced that the doctor, who was standing beside him in the pulpit, would marry HIS wife. (There were five children involved.)

The minister and his wife had sung a duet that day, and the doctor, who was a church official, had read the scriptures for the service.

The above is absolutely true. I witnessed it, and am enclosing the names of all the parties involved if you wish to check it out. Being unable to stay in such a church, I left it immediately and joined another one.

Dear Abby

"TOPPER" IN TAFT, CAL.

DEAR TOPPER: I am frequently accused of making up letters, but I have neither the talent nor the imagination to come up with anything as fantastic as some of the real life situations that readers send me. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: My son has just become engaged. His mother and I are divorced and I am remarried. My son has invited my wife and me to his wedding.

However, the bride's mother has decided that she wants only four others in the reception line with the bride couple, namely the parents of the bride and the parents of the groom.

That means I am asked to stand in line with my former wife while my present wife has no part in it.

My son is urging me strongly to go along with this although I have told him that I do not feel right about it.

I don't wish to oppose my son on this day of all days, but I cannot help but feel that such a decision clearly disregards my feelings and the feelings of my present wife.

What can you advise me?

UPSET
DEAR UPSET: Go along with your son's wishes. Often, when mother and dad are divorced and remarried, Number Two is not even invited to the wedding.

DEAR ABBY: My mother in law is 47 years old. Two years ago when our first child was born she became a grandmother for the first time.

When people congratulated her on becoming a grandmother, she'd say, "I am not a grandmother. I am the mother of a new father!"

We thought that was rather clever at first, but she continued to make such a point of not letting anyone refer to her as a grandmother, we realized that she wasn't kidding.

When our child began to recognize her, she insisted that he call her "Ta Ta," and she said she never wanted him to call her "Grandma, Granny, Nana," or anything related to grandmother. Then she goes into that silly routine about her not being a grandmother, she's the mother of a new father.

We don't want to make a big thing out of it, but we'd like to know how to tactfully handle the situation.

SMALLTOWN, USA

DEAR SMALLTOWN: Call her "Ta Ta" to keep her happy. But whether she likes it or not, she is a grandmother, and she'll not be able to avoid that label forever, which will be her problem, eventually. Not yours.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Let me tell you something that I think all housewives should know about:

How to drain catsup and mustard bottles.

I have owned a chain of hamburger places for 30 years and nothing makes me madder than to spot check and see what they do with the empty bottles. They shake, shake and throw.

All a housekeeper has to do is remove the caps and put one bottle on top of the other, neck to neck and leave them overnight.

You won't believe it, and other will not, but the top bottle will be as clean as a whistle the next morning.

The bottles must be left out at room temperature, which makes no difference with either mustard or catsup.

Try this the next time you have a near-empty bottle and see if it doesn't work.

Cordially,
Elmer Schultz

Dear Heloise:

I have never seen a drying rack for dripdries in any laundry rooms in an apartment unit, but I have found the solution to this problem. Hang a "closet-saver" on the door and presto! Take your dripdries out of the dryer, put them on a hanger, and hang them on the gadget. It's easy to remove the top metal part from the top of the door and carry it home with your clothes on it.

No more wrinkled garments or shirts, they are as smooth as they come out of the dryer. It works, Heloise:

MAIN DISH BAKED APPLES

Lunch or Supper Main Dish

For a luncheon or supper main dish, preceded by chilled vegetable juice and followed with a light dessert of your choice, these hearty baked apples are a departure from the usual and are sure to please. They are so easy to prepare that you will want to serve them more than once now that big, beautiful baking apples are in the market.

Main Dish Baked Apples

Six large baking apples
Two cups packaged corn bread
One-third cup butter or margarine

One-quarter cup water
One-half cup finely chopped onions
Six strips crisp bacon, crumbled
Core apples; pare about one-third of the way down from stem end. Remove some of the pulp, leaving thick shells. Chop pulp fine; set aside. Measure stuffing mix.

Melt butter in water; add to stuffing mix with chopped pulp, onions and crumbled bacon. Fill apple shells with this mixture. Brush pared surfaces with additional melted butter. Set in a baking pan. Pour in hot water to a depth of one-half inch. Cover pan with foil. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 60 minutes or until apples are tender. Garnish with bacon curls and serve with a green vegetable if desired. Makes six servings. If desired, remove foil and set pan in broiling oven just long enough to brown stuffing.

Helpful Hints

The average oven takes 10 minutes to pre-heat, says the American Gas Association.

Keep a bottle of drinking water in the refrigerator, instead of letting the tap run until water gets cold. It's a water conservation tip.

Before donating an old but working toaster or waffle iron to a charity for sale, clean it up. The clean old things move — but experience has shown that appliances in shoddy condition don't attract buyers.

Cover saucepans when they're on the burner. Food will cook faster and you'll save gas — or electricity.

A good coat, preferably in a plain color, although more expensive, is worth a dozen fashion fads and fripperies.

Fabrics chosen for furniture and windows should be compatible in design color, pattern and texture, also compatible in style with other furnishings and with the background of the room.

SUPERSTAR HANK AARON of the Braves heads for home with his 648th home run that ties him with Willie Mays in career homers. Aaron hit the homer off San Diego pitcher Fred Norman in the first inning. Aaron needs 66 more homers to equal Babe Ruth's record. Padre catcher Bob Barton, umpire Doug Harvey and Aaron's teammate Rico Carty look on. (UPI)

Aaron Ties Mays at 648

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Welcome home, Hank Aaron. You've just caught Willie Mays. Next stop: Babe Ruth.

"The biggest one is still ahead," said the Atlanta Braves' slugger after tying Mays for second place on the all-time home run list with No. 648 Wednesday night and setting his sights on the Babe's record 714.

Aaron's first-inning belt, a typical line drive rocket into the left field seats at Atlanta Stadium, started the Braves to a 5-4 victory over the San Diego Padres.

It was his ninth homer this year and left him only 66 away from one of baseball's most revered records—Babe Ruth's 714 lifetime homers.

When Aaron cracked his 600th against San Francisco last year to cut Mays' lead to 33, the Atlanta star quipped, "It's kind of tough to catch a moving target."

"I've got to catch my own targets now," Aaron said Wednesday night. "I just haven't been hitting the ball well at all this year."

Aaron attempted to play down the significance of catching Mays, one of the game's all-time greats who at age 41 is in the twilight of a career that saw him traded from the San Francisco Giants to the New York Mets early this season.

"I've never had a rivalry with him," Aaron said. "If there was any at all, it was just a friendly one."

"I have my job to do and Willie has his," Aaron added. "Anyway, I put myself in a different category. He's 41 and I'm 38 and that makes a difference, no matter what you might think."

The blast Wednesday night also enabled Aaron to reach another major milestone in his 19-year career as he became only the second player to attain 6,000 total bases. It moved him to 6,001, trailing record-holder Stan Musial, who has 6,134.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the San Francisco Giants 5-4 in 10 innings; the St. Louis Cardinals topped the Chicago Cubs 1-0; the Montreal Expos beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 and the Cincinnati Reds bombed the Houston Astros 12-4. Rain washed out the game between Philadelphia and New York.

After Aaron's blast gave Atlanta a 1-0 lead, the Braves added another run in the first on Earl Williams' run-scoring single. They tallied a pair of unearned runs in the third on a hit, an error and three walks and another in the eighth on pitcher Ron Reed's sacrifice fly that proved to be the winning margin.

Reed gave up a run in the second and another in the eighth before relinquishing Larry Stahl's two-run homer in the ninth and taking a shower. Cecil Upshaw then came in to get the final three outs.

Manny Mota's tie-breaking triple in the 10th pulled Los Angeles past San Francisco and gave the Dodgers a 1½-game lead over Houston in the West race. Mota's hit scored Willie Davis, who had led off with a walk.

Lou Brock singled across Dallas from second in the fifth inning and Bob Gibson pitched a three-hitter, giving St. Louis its triumph over Chicago.

"I never really get going 'till June," said Gibson, who won his second straight game after five losses.

Tim Lincecum's run-scoring single in the sixth inning drove home

the decisive margin in Montreal's triumph over Pittsburgh that dropped the Pirates 4½ games behind the Mets in the East.

Ernie McAnally won his first game of the year for Montreal after five losses.

George Foster, hitting .167 at game time, crashed a grand slam home run to highlight a six-run third inning and help Cincinnati tame Houston.

Pepe Tells Cubs He'd Like to Play

CHICAGO (UPI)—Joe Pepitone says he wants to play for the Cubs who has the Chicago Cubs as soon as he is eligible.

Pepitone, a former first baseman for the Cubs who has been a tavern proprietor and newspaper columnist since he "retired" from baseball May 2, said the Cubs have a chance at the pennant this year and he'd like to help them win it.

"I know that I can," he said. "Cubs' Vice President John Holland said Wednesday that Pepitone will rejoin the team in Los Angeles on the next road trip but won't be on the active roster until June 30—after the required 60 days have elapsed since his retirement."

Pepitone conferred Wednesday with Leo Durocher, Cubs manager, who had predicted his retirement wouldn't last long.

Durocher said later, "He'll have to prove to me that he's in shape to play and then he'll have to win his job back."

Pepi said he would: "It's going to be tough to break into that lineup again. Those guys are good. But I want to be with 'em if I can help and I know that I can."

Pepitone told newsmen after meeting with club officials, "My mother was in town last week. She said, 'Get back into baseball, Joe.'"

He said he used to send his mother a check for $100 to $200 every month and "she misses it now. But I'm not coming back for the money. I've watched these guys (the Cubs) on TV and they have a chance to win the pennant and I'd like to help 'em."

Sources said Pepitone went to Wrigley field over the weekend and let the Cub management know he would be available.

For the past month Pepitone had devoted his time to running a tavern and cafe he owns on the near North Side and has become a columnist for the Chicago Daily News.

When he quit last month, Pepitone said he had "lost the excitement and enthusiasm of baseball and that the players strike contributed."

He had been benched after a long dry spell at the plate. Pepitone played first base most of last season and batted .307 with the Cubs.

Kiner Ahead

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ralph Kiner, now a broadcaster for the New York Mets, either won outright or tied for the home run championship seven times, a distinction that places him one ahead of Babe Ruth, reports the Rheingold sports bureau. During a 10-year career in the major leagues that began with Pittsburgh in 1946, Kiner smashed 369 homers, averaging almost 37 a season.

THE MANY FACES of Chicago Cubs' first baseman Joe Pepitone who has changed his mind about retiring at the age of 31. Pepitone explains to newsmen in the Cubs dressing room Wednesday that the wants to return to the club. Cubs' Vice President John Holland confirmed that Pepitone wants to rejoin the team and said whether or not he can work out with the Cubs pending his restoration to the active list will have to be cleared with baseball officials. (UPI)

Nicklaus Maintains Lead With Earnings of $156,051

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus maintained his lead last week in the money-winning standings compiled by the Professional Golf Association Tournament Players Division.

The Golden Bear has collected $156,051 in winnings thus far, last week in the money-winning money winner, earning $26,000 for capturing the Atlanta Golf Classic.

Bob Lunn was the week's big money winner, earning $26,000 for capturing the Atlanta Golf Classic. That boosted Lunn's 1972 income from $6,880 in last week's standings to $33,307, good for 31st spot in the cash ratings.

Lunn's last previous victory had come in the Glenn Campbell Los Angeles Open at the start of the 1971 season.

There were no changes in the top ten positions over the previous week. Jerry Heard and George Archer, neither of whom competed in the Atlanta

Lyle Picked Up His Slider During a Sleepless Night

Associated Press Sports Writer

Sparky Lyle, who picked up his out pitch during a sleepless night six years ago, is doing his best to see that Ralph Houk spends as few sleepless nights as possible.

Houk wig-wagged Lyle in from the bullpen for the 14th time Wednesday night and the left-handed relief ace, acquired from Boston during spring training, posted his 10th save, preserving the New York Yankees' 5-4 victory over Milwaukee.

The 27-year-old Lyle has one triumph, giving him a hand in 11 of New York's 17 victories. He sports an impressive 1.16 earned run average.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit edged Cleveland 5-4 in 10 innings, Oakland, trimmed Texas 5-1, Minnesota nipped Kansas City 3-2 and California shaded the Chicago White Sox 4-3. Baltimore and Boston were rained out.

Lyle was struggling along at Pittsfield, Mass., in the Eastern League in 1966 with "only a fast ball and a sometimes curve. Ted Williams, who was the Red Sox batting instructor, came to Pittsfield for a couple of days. I asked him to explain how a slider moves and how it appears to a batter. Ted gave me a detailed account of a slider from a batter's viewpoint.

"I was lying in bed that night, but couldn't sleep. I got up and tried holding a baseball in a variety of ways to envision how I'd have to hold it to get the type break Ted spoke of. I finally decided that there was only one way to do it. I got up and started throwing the ball against the house at 5 a.m."

He's been throwing the slider it ever since.

The Yanks jumped to a 5-0 lead Wednesday night as John Ellis and Gene Michael delivered two-run singles in the first inning and Roy White homered in the third. The Brewers chased Mel Stottlemyre in the seventh and Lyle came on with two runs already in. He promptly wild pitched another one home, gave up a run on three singles in the eighth and then slammed the door.

The Tigers took over first place in the AL East by one-half game over rain-idled Baltimore when Eddie Brinkman hit a sacrifice fly in the 10th inning after reliever Fred Scherman worked out a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the Cleveland ninth.

It was the seventh loss in a row for the Indians. Norm Cash and Mickey Stanley homered for the Tigers.

Oakland scored three times in the seventh inning on Sal Bando's sacrifice fly and singles by Mike Epstein and Ollie Brown and went on to defeat Texas behind Catfish Hunter.

Reggie Jackson, who homered for the A's off Dick Bosman in the first inning, was struck in the face by a pitch from reliever Mike Paul in the seventh. Jackson walked from the field under his own power and was taken to a hospital, where X rays proved negative.

Eric Soderholm, hitting just .183 at game time, slammed a three-run homer in the sixth inning following singles by Rod Carew and Harmon Killebrew. Lifting Minnesota past Kansas City. It was Soderholm's third home run of the season and second game-winner.

Chicago jumped to a 3-1 lead over California after 5½ innings with Rich Morales accounting for two runs with a home run and single. But Bob Oliver drove in a run for the Angels with a sixth-inning single. Leroy Stanton tied it with a single in the eighth and they won it with two out in the ninth.

Big Test for West

SANDWICH, England (AP) — Marty West, 23-year-old amateur golfer from Chevy Chase, Md., faced one of the toughest matches of his career today.

The chunky American had to play Rodney Foster, an experienced British Walker Cup campaigner and a seeded player in the fourth round of the British Amateur Championship.

West, who finished sixth in the U.S. amateur last year, is playing in Britain for the first time. He is getting to know the 6,633-yard, par 34-36-70 Royal St. George's links where the weather constantly changes and the wind plays havoc with drives.

"It's a wonderful experience to play on such a natural course," West said. "We have nothing like this in the United States.

"Golf courses in America are too much alike—what America itself perhaps is becoming—a little too artificial and carefully laid out."

"Every hole on this course calls for different shots from the ones I'm used to making at home."

Another American survivor, former Walker Cup player Dick Siderow of Westport, Conn., also in Britain for the first time, agreed about the course but said the weather left him bewildered.

"I started the tournament with a turtle necked sweater," he said. "At times I felt I ought to be wearing a short sleeved shirt."

Siderow's opponent today was Barry Drayson, a former British professional, who has been reinstated as an amateur.

Two other Americans were in the last 32. Kemp Richardson of Laguna Niguel, Calif., was paired against David Smith of Britain and John Arnold Cameron of Dallas faced Philip Berry of Britain.

On Wednesday, in violently changing weather which included lashing rain and hail storms, Siderow beat Gordon Hyde of Britain 5 and 3, and West defeated David Hedges of Britain 2 and 1.

Richardson edged Britain's David Smith, one-up, and Cameron beat David Cox of Britain 3 and 2.

One of America's brightest hopes, Ed Tutwiler of Indianapolis, lost a three-hole lead and was beaten by his old Walker Cup rival, Joe Carr of Ireland, one-up.

Smith Faces Gimeno

PARIS (AP) — Big Stan Smith, a terror on grass courts who has always had trouble adjusting his game to clay, meets Andres Gimeno of Spain today in the quarter-finals of the French Open Tennis Tournament.

Smith, of Sea Pines, S. C., ranked No. 1 in the United States and seeded No. 3 in this tournament called the world clay courts championships, never has gone beyond the quarter-finals here.

Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, the French champion in 1970 and 1971 and No. 1 seed this year, had a run of wildness Wednesday and lost the first set of his quarter-final match against Patrick Proisy of France, seeded No. 9. But Kodes held a 2-6, 8-6, 6-2 lead when play was interrupted because of darkness. The finish of the match will be the first center court action today. The winner will meet Manuel Orantes of Spain in the semifinal.

In another quarter-final, Adriano Panatta of Italy meets Alex Metreveli of France.

The semi-finals of the women's doubles also will be played today with Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and Betty Stove of Holland playing Mrs. Judy Dalton of Australia and Francoise Durr of France, and Winnie Shaw and Nell Truman of Britain meeting Helen Gourlay and Karen Krantzcke of Australia.

On Wednesday, Orantes eliminated Harold Solomon of Silver Spring, Md. 6-4, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

Today's Probable Pitchers
New York (Murphy 0-1) at Minnesota (Woodson 3-3).
New York (Hinton 1-0) at Milwaukee (Slaton 1-6).
Detroit (Lolich 8-3) at Cleveland (Perry 8-3).
Boston (Siebert 3-2) at Baltimore (McNally 5-3).

Gurney Appeals Indy 500 Ruling

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The official finish of last Saturday's Indianapolis 500-mile auto race apparently won't be determined for up to another month because of an appeal filed Wednesday night by car owner Dan Gurney.

Gurney appealed to the sanctioning United States Auto

Club, contending the Indianapolis Motor Speedway stewards imposed too severe a penalty on his driver, Jerry Grant, who was dropped from second to 12th place because of a foul up in the pits.

The carbuilder from Santa Ana, Calif., said the penalty was "arbitrarily imposed" by the stewards—Harlan Fengler, Don Cummins and Walt Myers.

The penalty of voiding Grant's second-place finish and dropping him to 12 came after a protest by Vel's Parnelli Jones team crew chief George Bignotti. Bignotti charged that Grant's racer illegally was refueled from teammate Bobby Unser's pit tank.

Gurney's appeal said, "Jerry Grant...gained no advantage from extra fuel being added" to the car's tanks. He said Grant had sufficient fuel to finish the 13 remaining laps following his pit stop to change a damaged left front tire.

Bignotti's protest asked for "automatic disqualification" of Grant's car, but Gurney said the protest was erroneous because no penalty was spelled out in speedway rules or bulletins prior to the race.

Gurney said a "penalty should be clearly defined" in the event of future infractions of this sort.

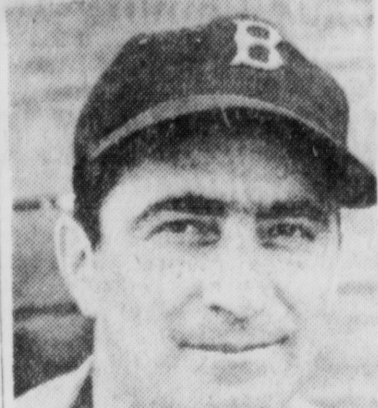

Although he did not specifically ask that Grant be reinstated into second place, Gurney said "Grant drove an excellent race...and earned second place for his efforts in finishing on the same lap with winner Mark Donohue."

Donohue took over the lead on Grant's unexpected and ill-fated pit stop and led the final 13 laps of the race.

The decision on the appeal will have to come in the next 30 days according to USAC rules. USAC President Charles T. Brockman must appoint a three-man board of judges to study the ruling and appeal.

Gurney's appeal was accompanied by a $515 fee which represents one per cent of the difference in purses from No. 2 to No. 12.

Because of the anticipated appeal by Gurney, speedway officials at Sunday night's story banquet withheld checks for the drivers finishing in second through 12th places.

MOE BERG

Moe Berg Dies at 70

NEW YORK (AP)—Morris "Moe" Berg, baseball's legendary linguist and scholar of the 1920's and 30's, is dead at the age of 70.

Berg, probably the only professional baseball player ever to study at the Sorbonne in Paris, died Tuesday in a Belleville, N.J., hospital after being admitted for observation Saturday.

Berg, who delighted sports writers with his long philosophical yarns, signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1923 after his graduation from Princeton University. He got his major league start in 1926 with the Chicago White Sox as a shortstop.

When the White Sox were plagued with injuries, Berg volunteered to catch, a position he played until he joined the U.S. Office of Strategic Service during World War II.

Berg was graduated from Columbia University with a law degree in 1928 and was admitted to the New York Bar Association later that year.

The high point of his baseball career was in 1929 when he appeared in 107 White Sox games with 47 runs batted in and a .287 average. From 1931 to 1934 he bounced between Cleveland and Washington before joining the Boston Red Sox where he stayed until 1939.

Berg mastered 10 languages. His duties with the OSS ran the gamut of posing as a German businessman during the important strategy meeting of Hitler aides and acting as an envoy of American athletes.

Berg, who was born in New York City, resided with his sister, Ethel, in Newark, N.J. Other survivors include a brother, Dr. Samuel Berg, also of Newark.

Suns' Coach to Atlanta

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—After two winning years in the National Basketball Association as coach of the Phoenix Suns, Cotton Fitzsimmons is moving to the Atlanta Hawks as coach.

General manager Jerry Colangelo of the Suns said, in obvious disappointment, "Cotton made it clear that he wanted out and that he felt opportunities would be greater in Atlanta. I was shocked by the immediacy of his request and thus have had no time to consider a successor."

Fitzsimmons came to the Suns from Kansas State and still had two years on his contract when he quit abruptly Wednesday.

The Hawks scheduled a news conference in Atlanta today to introduce the new coach. Fitzsimmons, 40, guided the Phoenix club to a 97-67 record in two seasons but finished third both years. Atlanta had a 72-92 record in that span but made the playoffs both seasons by finishing second in the mon.

weaker Central Division. Colangelo was particularly distressed about the timing of Fitzsimmons' resignation.

"If this had happened in March, I would have had time to talk to some people who were then available," he said. "Now there could be a definite availability problem."

Fitzsimmons was the Suns' third coach in the team's four-year history. Colangelo coached the club for the final 44 games in the 1970 season and said he might do so again if necessary.

But he indicated he would seek a coach with NBA experience to replace Fitzsimmons.

Skaters Sign

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Raiders of the World Hockey Association Wednesday signed former National Hockey League player Ron Ward and minor leaguer Alton White to multi-year contracts.

White is the first black man signed to a WHA contract and only the second black to ink a major league hockey pact.

Ward played in a total of 45 games for the Boston Bruins during the 1957-58 and 1960-61 season.

It takes a special kind of person to see a lake that isn't here. But this is a very special lake — that soon will be here.

To fill a lovely green Kaatskill Valley with water and fun. To form the center of an exciting new vacation community — like none that ever existed before.

If you have a little imagination, we think you'd like to see what's going on near your home — before the rest of the world discovers it.

You might get your shoes a bit dusty. You might also get an advance look at a whole new kind of second life — that's designed to give your first life more meaning.

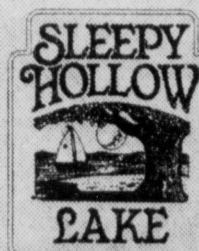

Come. See the lake that isn't here — and think a bit about some of the out-of-this-world fun and facilities which will surround this lake — right in your own backyard.

But, look what you get for your effort:

- a vacation-every-weekend kind of life built around a big,
- blue 323-acre freshwater lake, fully 2 miles long with
- 16 miles of scenic shoreline, coves and inlets for fishing,
- boating and water-skiing to your heart's content.

- a property-owner-only lodge, complete with
- sauna baths, an indoor swimming pool, plus an
- informal, but impressive, party room and reception area.
- Swim and Tennis club, with another swimming pool,
- illuminated tennis courts, a paddle ball court,
- bring or rent a horse for riding at our complete
- Equestrian Center, including stables, paddock, and tack room.
- a Teen Center for the kids, with playgrounds and children's zoo.
- winter fun facilities for tobogganing, skating, skiing, sledding,
- and more, and more, and more.

This Country Hick Stuff . . .

Bench Jockeys Never Bothered Feller

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports WriterVAN METER, Iowa (UPI)—
"You country hick you!"

Bob Feller couldn't help hearing them yell that at him when he was pitching for the Cleveland Indians.

They certainly hollered it loud enough.

They'd cup their hands back on the enemy bench or jump up there to the top step of the dugout, all of them—the Detroit Tigers, Boston Red Sox, New York Yankees—and the amusing thing about it is that they themselves came from such humming metropolises as Sandusky, Ind., Owens Crossroads, Ala., and Rodeo, Calif., and they'd do everything they possibly could to rattle this incredible kid from the wheat fields of Van Meter, Iowa (population 462).

Bob Feller would pay them no mind.

He'd simply go out there with that ramrod straight West Point posture of his, that flip flop duck-footed walk and that frightening firepower in his right arm and show them all what a "country hick" could do.

Among some of the things he showed them were three no-hitters and 12 one-hitters.

20-Game Winner Six Times
He showed them a "country hick" could be a 20-game winner in the majors—six different times.

All told, Feller won 266 ball games for Cleveland and lost 162 for a .621 percentage. He might have done much better but for the fact he served in the Navy nearly four full seasons during which he won eight battle stars.

Voted into Baseball's Hall of Fame when he was 44, Feller now is 53 and doing promotional and public relations work for the Sheraton Hotel chain out of Cleveland.

When I told him I was going to Van Meter for the purpose of doing this story he had a number of helpful suggestions.

He told me some of the people

I could speak with and some of the places I could see.

"What about the local drug store where maybe you hung out and drank soda pop when you were a kid?" I asked him.

"Is there anybody there now who knew you then?"

Bob Feller nearly blew a fuse.

"Whaddya think I was, like some of these kids in the East today?" he said, that old competitive edge creeping into his voice.

"I didn't hang out in any drug store. The one we had in Van Meter folded up some time back anyway. I couldn't have any sweets when I was a kid. Soda pop was forbidden. It cut your wind. I couldn't have candy either."

"No sweets at all."
"A little watermelon once in awhile," Feller said.A Successful Farmer
Bob Feller's father, the late Bill Feller, was a successful farmer here in Van Meter, albeit an unusual one. Corn and oats usually are considered the best crops in this part of Iowa but Bill Feller planted wheat instead, principally because it didn't require as much attention as corn and oats and it provided him more time to play baseball with his boy.

More than that, Bill Feller laid out his own baseball field a quarter mile from his old home. He called it Oak View Field and this is the place his son, Robert Andrew Feller, "graduated" to after throwing the ball to his father in the family barn.

"Van Meter was fortunate to be put on the map by Bob Feller," says Don Fisher, the local funeral director who played high school ball on the same team with Feller.

"No amount of money could ever buy the amount of publicity he gave us simply by coming from here. I've known Bob since I was in seventh grade. I played centerfield and it was very relaxing to play behind him. He realized his tremendous speed and never tried to take undue advantage of it. But we used to like to brag on him. I remember we were playing DeSoto, which is three miles west of here, and they and Waukee were our two chief rivals. Bob was pitching against DeSoto, and our whole team would come in and sit beside the pitcher's mound while he pitched. We knew they could never hit him. He always struck 'em out."

Feller was signed by Cleveland at the age of 16 but continued his studies at Van Meter Consolidated School here.

"He never tried impressing anyone with his importance when he came back here to school after signing with Cleveland," Fisher says. "He worked very hard putting the other kids at ease."

Bob Never Changed
To me, Bob has never changed. "Maybe some people here in Van Meter will disagree with me, but that's the way I feel. Whenever Bob would come back here to see his mother, who was ill before she died, or for the homecomings we used to have for him, he'd do everything he could to recognize and say hello to everybody in town. I'd see him go up and down the street trying his best not to ignore anybody. But you know how it is, somebody's always going to feel neglected. That's human nature."

There used to be a sign in the outskirts of Van Meter saying it was the "Home of Bob Feller," but the sign was removed a few years ago when the Federal Government came in and built a modern Interstate highway replacing the original road.

The last time Feller was here was last summer. He gave the commencement address at Van Meter High.

"It was nice to see all the people where you played as a kid," he says. "You reminisce with them, and it's a little like going to these Old Timers' Games they've got in baseball. I always enjoy coming back home. After all, it was a part of my life."

COUNTRY BOY — "You country hick, you!" Bob Feller, (shown in 1936 photo from files) couldn't help hearing them yell that at him when he was pitching for the Cleveland Indians. They'd cup their hands back on the enemy bench or jump up there to the top of the dugout and they'd do everything they possibly could to rattle this incredible kid from the wheat fields of Van Meter, Iowa. NBA Officials Hold Tryouts

BUFFALO (AP) — The National Basketball Association will hold its tryout camp for officials June 12-16 in conjunction with the Buffalo Braves rookie camp.

"This year my three scouts and myself investigated 102 applicants for NBA official's positions," said John Nucetola, NBA supervisor of officials. "From that group, 16 have been invited to partake in our camp."

Of the 16, six will be chosen to officiate at NBA exhibition games in the 1972-73 season. Last season, the league picked three for the regular NBA staff.

The Braves have invited 17 rookies to its camp, which will be held at Erie Community College in suburban Williamsville.

CHARLES R. WALGREEN

Walgreen Boss On Rx Needs

CHICAGO, ILL. — "People should shop for the lowest price on their prescription," says Charles R. Walgreen III, R.Ph., president of Walgreen Co., the nation's largest drug store chain.

"Modern prescription drugs with their health—and life-saving potential are great values at any price," Walgreen said. "But that doesn't mean people should pay any price."

"If they know what to do, people can often obtain their prescriptions at considerable savings."

Walgreen listed three simple steps to reduce the cost of prescription medicine:

- Find out exactly what your prescription is: drug, brand, strength, and quantity.
- Then, use your telephone. Call several pharmacies to see if they'll quote Rx prices over the phone. Then ask their price on your prescription.
- Compare prices, and take your prescription where the price is lowest.

Walgreen stressed that, although prescription prices may vary, the ingredients used to compound the prescriptions cannot be changed. Customers needn't be concerned that a prescription is less effective because it is lower-priced.

"Every pharmacist and every pharmacy is professionally pledged to fill your prescription exactly as prescribed by your doctor."

"There can be no question of quality."

Then why don't more people compare prescription prices? Many simple aren't aware that prescription prices can vary so widely. But also, circumstances may hinder comparison.

"Very often, a person who needs a prescription is not feeling well and doesn't want to rush around the city looking for the best buy," Walgreen explained. "He usually goes to his nearest drug store, regardless of cost, and then goes back to bed."

The solution? Use the telephone. Compare prices from several pharmacies, and go where the price is lowest.

"All Walgreen Drug Stores (and many other pharmacies) will give prices over the phone, provided the customer describes the exact drug, brand, potency, and quantity," Walgreen said.

Some states require pharmacists to type this information on each prescription label, making it easy for the customer to know what medicine he's taking.

Another way to save money is to check the extra services each drug store provides with prescriptions.

A Walgreen store in the Kingston, N.Y. area is located in the Kingston Shopping Plaza.

Grossman's Parent Firm Announces New Acquisition

PORTLAND, ORE. — Evans Products Company today announced that it has completed the purchase of Building Products Supply Co. Inc. of St. Louis, Missouri.

DAY FOR INDIANS — Mayor Francis R. Koenig (L) and Addison Jones marked Saturday as Kingston Indians Day in recognition of the city's only drum and bugle corps, Jones is the Indians' honorary booster chairman this year. Joining them are Mary Ann and Phil Volpe of the Kingston Indians and John Silva (C) of the Troop 12 Indians.

Brooklyn Ridgemen Top Corps In Pow Wow Preview at Dietz

KINGSTON — The Magnificent Yankees of Ulica, second place, 62.90, the Emerald Cadets of New Haven, third, 62.75, The New York City Knickerbockers, fourth, 58.95, The Surfers of New London, Conn., fifth, 58.65, The St. George Olympians of Springfield, Mass., sixth, 51.50 and the Monarchs of Wayne, N.J., seventh, 50.50.

Presentation of the first place trophy to the drum major of the victorious Ridgemen was made by State Senator Richard Schermerhorn of Cornwall, James Cahoon, commander of Hurley VFW Post, 5086, presented the second place award and John Wojciechowski, committeeman and Booster chairman for the Indians, made the third place presentation.

In recognition of their new sponsorship of the Indians, the VFW Post of Hurley's Continental attired color guard presented to the American Flag section of the Indians a new VFW Post Flag to be carried by the Corps. As host Corps, both Indians Corps performed. The Kingston Indians will appear in their first competition this season Sunday, June 4, at the Blue Rock contest in New Castle, Del., against some of the top-ranked corps in the east.

In addition to the Pow Wow preview champions Ridgemen, other corps invited to participate in the July 30 event at the stadium include: Blue Rock of Wilmington, Del., defending champions; the La Salle Cadets of Ottawa, Canada; Anaheim Kingsmen of California; The Optimists of Toronto, Canada; The Blessed St. Golden Knights, Union, N.J.; and the New York City Warriors.

Advance tickets for the July 30 championship invitational contest may be obtained by writing to the Kingston Indians, 19 Joys Lane.

Man Enters Innocent Plea

KINGSTON — A Woodstock man pleaded innocent Wednesday in City Court to charges of soliciting a ride on a city street, and possessing dangerous drugs sixth degree.

Judge Hubert A. Richter adjourned the case of Henry W. Starr, 26, of Box 24, Woodstock until Monday, June 5. According to police the man was attempting to hitch a ride and when searched he had marijuana in his possession.

Your Horoscope

Friday, June 2

GENERAL TENDENCIES: If you don't make any changes in the planned arrangements with other persons, this can be an unusually good day. Avoid the temptation to get involved with others in matters that do not concern you personally. Take care of your own affairs.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) An ideal day in which much can be accomplished if you avoid arguments at home or with associates in business. One who opposes you could make things difficult if you are not careful.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try to please those higher-ups you like and don't argue with co-workers. Make this a productive day. Engage in civic work that will add to present prestige. Be poised.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Finding new methods of realizing your idealistic dreams, which are important to your nature, makes this a fine day. Don't take off on any tangents.

You need to save more money. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take the suggestions from experts in your field of endeavor and then use them wisely to better your position in life. Show affection to loved one and get right results.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Instead of worrying about limitations you may have, get busy and do something constructive. You may find that civic work is not to your liking, but push through determinedly.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have work that requires a more modern system to get it done properly. Put a new plan to work that makes fellow workers cooperate more. Show that you are a capable person.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Come to a better understanding with those you like. Be careful not to irritate a higher-up. This is not a good day for entertaining. Make better plans for such in the future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

Don't confide your worries with others but make an attempt to eliminate them once and for all. Those new activities you have in mind are not for you. Remain steadfast to present setup.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do whatever will improve your surroundings and show that you are in a most cooperative mood. Avoid a person who gossips too much. A businesslike attitude is best now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Become more practical so you can improve your position in life. A bigwig is irate and you could be blamed for something that is not your responsibility if you are not careful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Improving your appearance before you go out for any important business appointments is wise. Try not to get into any arguments. Don't overwork. Remember, your health comes first.

PISCES (Feb. 20, Mar. 20) Keep busy solving problems and you will get ahead. Avoid those who are envious of you who like to criticize. Obtain the advice you need from experts, then put it to good use.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming and gregarious young people who attracts many friends and would do well in any field that deals with the public, be it entertainment, government or whatever. The health is likely to be delicate and long trips without proper care should not be attempted. An artistic nature is very pronounced here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel;" What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for June is now ready. Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SATURDAY NIGHT: (Q.) I have a car. Every time I start the motor, my younger brothers and sisters want to go wherever I am going.

Almost always I take them. But last Saturday night my aunt and uncle asked me to baby-sit for them. They told me I could bring my girl friend to keep me company.

My youngest brother, who is 13, wanted to go with me, but I said no. He cried and cried, but I still said no. Do you think I was right to say no?—Big brother, Age 13, in Indiana.

(A.) Yes, you seem to be generous with the car and fair to the younger members of the family about it. This, however, was in the nature of a Saturday-night date, and your little brother was out of line demanding that he share it with you.

But your aunt and uncle and you and your girl friend made a mistake. Neighbors or friends often misinterpret the situation when a boy and a girl spend an evening or night in a house without adults. You may get your girl friend or yourself talked about for doing this. Give it some thought before you do it again.

BATHS: (Q.) How can I get my brother to take a bath once in a while? Mother keeps after him but his hygiene is terrible. Sometimes he fills the tub up and then empties it without ever getting in.

If he had his way he would bathe three times a month. He is 13 and nearly old enough to have a girl friend. I don't see how a girl could stand being near him—Poor Big Sister in New Jersey.

(A.) When your brother does get a girl friend, he'll probably change his bathing habits radically. Until then it's up to your parents to see that he bathes daily.

The only thing you can do is try to get your parents to be stricter about his cleanliness, and stay upwind from him until there is some improvement.

(Want personal answers to your questions? Write to Jean Adams, care of The Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001. Only letters that include a stamped, self-addressed envelope can be answered.)

WHY WE SAY

TO COOL ONE'S HEELS

HORSE REST: This expression, which we use to designate someone who is left waiting, started in the days when horses were the usual means of transportation. The horse's hoofs would get hot on a long trip and riders would stop and pour water over the horse's heels to cool him off.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The tomato is technically a fruit but because of its uses it is considered a vegetable. About three-quarters of the U.S. tomato crop is processed into juice, canned tomatoes, catsup, soups and pastes. The World Almanac notes. Tomatoes were commonly believed poisonous by American colonists until the early 1800s.

Authorities Nab Three

Fourth IRA Leader Being Sought

DUBLIN (AP) — Authorities of the Irish Republic arrested three leaders of the Irish Republican Army's Provisional wing Wednesday and today but were unable to find a fourth. The two arrested Wednesday were Joe Cahill, once the spearhead of Provisional operations in Northern Ireland, and Rory O'Brady, president of the Provisional's political arm, Sinn Fein. They were held under the offenses against the state laws, allowing police to keep them for 48 hours without formal charges. Prison authorities said they went on a hunger strike. O'Brady's brother, Sean, publicity director of Sinn Fein, was picked up today. Sean Macstophain, chief of staff of the Provisionals, evaded a police dragnet.

The Official wing of the Irish Republican Army announced a cease-fire Monday night, but the Provisionals have ignored it and kept up their campaign of violence in Northern Ireland. Their headquarters is in Dublin, capital of the Irish Republic.

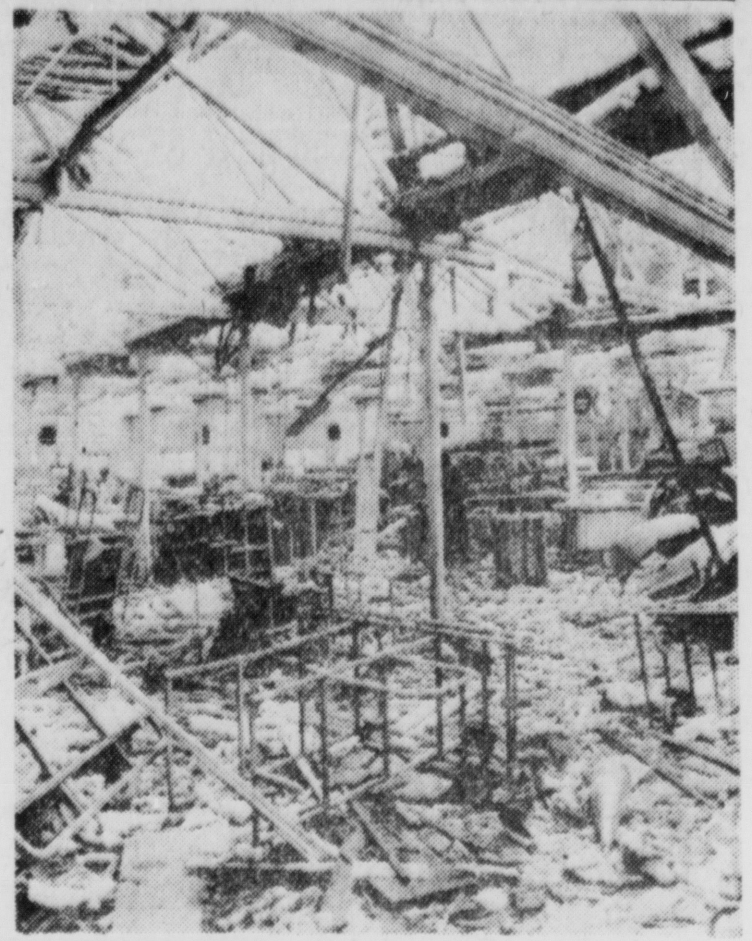

In the Northern Ireland capital of Belfast, two men burst into a downtown taxi office early today and shot two Roman Catholic attendants, wounding them critically. Security sources said the raid may have been a revenge attack by Protestant guerrillas.

There was also an explosion and shooting around the dock area of Belfast.

A policeman was shot in the back in Londonderry during the night and today guerrillas opened fire on an army checkpoint south of the border town of Newry. No casualties were reported in that attack.

At Dungiven, in County Tyrone, an army patrol walked into a booby-trapped house and an officer was burned in the face and hands. He was opening the door to the empty house when the device went off.

Thousands Expected to View the Duke

WINDSOR, England (UPI) — The duke of Windsor, an exile from his homeland in life, was back in the hearts of his countrymen today in death.

Railroads said they added extra cars for the thousands expected to pay tribute to the former King Edward VIII when his body lies in state in St. George's Chapel here Friday and Saturday.

The body of the duke, encased in a coffin of solid English oak and draped with his own personal red and gold standard, was brought today by road to the historic chapel on the grounds of Windsor Castle, chief residence of the kings and queens of England for more than 900 years.

The body was moved quietly and without ceremony through the turreted Henry VIII gate into the castle grounds. The hearse and four other cars comprised the cortege. There were few onlookers.

The Union Jack on the castle's round tower was lowered to half staff as the coffin, passed through the castle walls. The body was taken to the Albert Memorial Chapel to the rear of the main chapel, which was still being prepared for the lying in state.

If her health permits, the duchess was expected to arrive Friday on another of the personal planes of the queen and stay as a guest at Buckingham Palace, for the first time, over the funeral period.

The private funeral will take place from St. George's Chapel Monday with only some 200 family and close friends present—the entire adult royal family will attend. Burial will be in the tiny royal cemetery at Frogmore house about half a mile from the castle.

Someday the duchess, 75, will lie at the side of the Duke, close to another great royal love story—the mausoleum of Prince Albert and Queen Victoria, who lost much of her interest in life when her consort died.

State Tells Jury... Angela Guilty

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — Albert Harris methodically piled together all the bits and pieces of circumstantial evidence against Angela Davis Wednesday, then told the jury it had no alternative but to find her guilty of murder, kidnapping and conspiracy.

Seldom has a closing state argument in a capital case been so flat and unemotional, but the assistant attorney general had the jury's intense concentration as he outlined the events leading up to the bloody Aug. 7, 1970, San Rafael courthouse gun battle and attempted to tie

Miss Davis into all of them. The 28-year-old former UCLA philosophy instructor sat slumped with her chin in hand, expressionless as Harris spoke.

Her turn came today when the defense puts on its final arguments—possibly with Miss Davis speaking. Defense arguments were expected to take up most or all of today. Harris has a brief rebuttal argument and then the judge will instruct the jury, which was expected to begin deliberating late Friday.

Harris hit hardest at the defense contention that Miss Davis knew nothing of the intent of Jonathan Jackson, 17, to break into the Marin County Courthouse, take hostages and attempt to free his older brother, George Jackson.

On one of the rare occasions when he showed anger, Harris lashed out at the defense intimation there was no premeditated plan when young Jackson suddenly drew a gun in the courtroom of Judge Harold Haley where convict James McClain was on trial. McClain was a cellmate of George Jackson at San Quentin.

"There was no surprise on the part of McClain," Harris said. "There was no 'What are you going to do?'" Instead, he said "Did you bring the tape?"

The roll of adhesive tape which Jackson had in a briefcase was used to fasten a sawed-off shotgun to Haley's head. Also in the briefcase were guns bought by Miss Davis.

"Can you believe the woman with Jonathan didn't know what he was up to?" Harris asked.

Another Attack On Kleindienst

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said today he doubted that Richard G. Kleindienst should be entrusted with power over the rights and liberties of American citizens.

Cranston led off the attack as the Senate continued debate on Kleindienst's nomination as attorney general.

"The publicity surrounding the investigation of Kleindienst's role in the Justice Department's settlement of antitrust suits with International Telephone & Telegraph has obscured a far more fundamental question which this nomination raises," Cranston said. "It is the question of Kleindienst's fitness to be attorney general of the U.S."

"The attorney general wields great power which, if misused, could endanger the basic rights and liberties of Americans, either as individuals or as members of minority groups. Kleindienst's record leads me to doubt that he should be entrusted with this power affecting the rights and liberties of all Americans," Cranston said.

The debate on Kleindienst was expected to stretch well into next week, but there was little doubt he would be confirmed. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Republican Leader Hugh Scott, and GOP Whip Robert P. Griffin and Democratic Whip Robert C. Byrd all predicted Kleindienst had the votes.
